THRILLING TALE OF WANDERINGS

Army Flier Lost For Six Days In Mexico Is Rescued.

LOST IN DESERT
Floats Down River In Old Tub To a Goat Camp.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 18.—A thrilling story of the wanderings of Lieut. Alexander Pearson, Jr., army flier, who was lost for six days in Mexico, south of the Big Bend country along the Rio Grande, was told here with the arrival of Major Henry C. Pratt, air officer of the eighth corps.

Major Pratt was the first man to greet Pearson when he reached civilization. His story is the first authentic report and will be forwarded to Washington by corps headquarters.

Pratt's story follows: "After Pearson landed his ship, due to motor trouble, he spent all of Thursday afternoon searching for the Rio Grande. He continued his search throughout the night and all day Friday. He was cut by prickly cactus and blinded by sandstorms. Weak from lack of food and having used his half filled canteen of water he tried to sleep Friday night but hunger and thirst prevented. Early Saturday morning, nearly exhausted he stumbled through a canyon and, guided by the croaking of frogs, found the stream.

"A quarter of a mile from where he quenched his thirst he saw a raft on the other side of the river and after resting he swam across to it. After finding some additional boards to the raft which proved to be a discarded wash tub, with strips torn from his clothing, he floated down the stream all day and night.

"Shortly after daybreak Sunday he sighted the goat camp or the fledge brothers and hailed the two goat keepers. They accompanied him to the ranch house, taking turns walking beside the horses in order that Pearson might ride.

"At the ranch house, which was deserted but well stocked with food he ate for the first time since Thursday morning. His condition was so weak from exposure and lack of nourishment however, that the goat keepers would not permit him to start on the trip to Sander son until he had recuperated.

"Wednesday afternoon they furnished him with a horse, and with one acting as a guide, he rode into the air service camp just as the boys were returning from another fruitless day of searching for him.

Major Pratt said that Pearson after landing, walked away from the river to the south under the impression that he was still in the United States. The fact that he walked in a circle was what brought him back to the river.

The plane was found intact late Thursday afternoon by flyers with the exception of the motor bearings being frozen, about five miles from the Rio Grande on the Mexican side. It will be returned to Pearson's station just as soon as arrangements can be made with the Mexican government or its removal.

Pearson has returned to his station at Douglas, Ariz.

FARMERS ANNOUNCE PLAN OF MARKETING

Kansas City, Feb. 18.—The farmers' grain marketing committee of 17, appointed six months ago by the American Farm Bureau Federation to devise cheaper marketing methods, last night announced that it had voted to recommend formation of a Non-Stock, Non-Profit Corporation to be known as the National Sales Agency, which would handle the marketing of grain after it leaves the producer.

The organization would be co-operative with growers or grain taking membership. The members would effect an agreement with local co-operative elevators or a local grain growers' association to deliver the grain either on the basis of a sales contract, or a pooling contract. The local elevator or grain growers' association would contract with the National Sales Agency to handle the grain.

Await Return of Fordney
With Views of Harding

Chairman Of House Ways and Means Committee Confers With President-elect On Plans for Revision of Tariff Laws.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Republican leaders of congress are marking time today pending the return of Rep. Joseph W. Fordney, Republican of Michigan, chairman of the house way and means committee from his conference with President-elect Harding at St. Augustine. Tentative plans for revision of the tariff and tax laws by the next congress are being held in abeyance until Fordney has reported Mr. Harding's views as to what should be done regarding them.

All the Republican leaders do not share Fordney's opinion that the tariff should be disposed of first and proposed changes in the tax system taken up next.

There is also a difference of opinion among them as to whether a sales tax should be substituted for the excess profits tax. Senator Penrose, Republican of Pennsylvania, who as chairman of the senate finance committee, occupies the same position toward the house as Fordney does toward the senate as Fordney does toward the house, has been generally opposed to a sales tax such as Canada is reported to be finding highly successful as a revenue raiser.

Fordney hopes to obtain Mr. Harding's approval of his plan to have congress by resolution make the provisions of the new tariff bill effective immediately upon its being reported to the house by the ways and means committee and pending the adoption, amendment or rejection of those provisions by the senate and house. He would have those provision finally enacted into law made retroactive from the time of their enactment or adoption. In this way he would prevent the country from being flooded with imports between the time the bill is reported and the time the duties finally provided by it are enforced.

HUGHES PLANS
FINAL MEETING WITH HARDING

Probable Next Secretary Of State Due at St. Augustine

St. Augustine, Feb. 18.—Charles M. Hughes will arrive in St. Augustine late today for what probably will be a final conference with president elect. Harding before he becomes a member of his official family two weeks hence.

Justice Hughes has not seen the president elect since the latter's return from Panama early in December. Since their meeting in Marion the Harding cabinet has assumed a definite form and there have been many shifts in the international situation as the new administration will have to deal with them.

It is understood a wide range of subjects will be taken up in the discussion by the president elect and his secretary of state. It is probable that the foreign situation will be thoroughly gone into and in addition Mr. Hughes advice will be sought concerning the inaugural address and the few cabinet portfolios not yet tentatively filled.

The refusal of Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois to be considered for any office in the Harding administration has created still more uncertainty in the naval, commerce and labor posts. It has also increased the chances of southern representatives in the cabinet, according to those about the president elect.

The political advisers of Mr. Harding are insistently urging that for purely political reasons he recognize the breaking of the solid south by awarding a cabinet post to a southern man, but so far as can be learned here the president elect has made no decision yet.

ASSAILANT OF TWO SCHOOL TEACHERS
NOT YET LOCATED

Early Clews Abandoned; Police Believe One Man Is Guilty.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 18.—That the brutal murder of Misses Louise Wolf and Mabel Foote, Parma rural high school teachers on a lonely country road Wednesday evening, was the work of a man over six feet in height is the theory upon which sheriff C. B. Stannard and his co-workers have renewed the search today.

Earlier theories of the crime were discarded when police dogs failed to pick up the trail and men described as suspects came in voluntarily last night and accounted for their actions. Offer of a reward of $500 for the arrest of the killer will be made by the board of county commissioners, when it formally meets tomorrow, it was authoritatively stated today.

Every motorman and conductor operating a car upon which the killer might have escaped Wednesday night is being interviewed with the hope that one of them may furnish a clue that will lead to his arrest. That delay in finding the bodies and the time lost in following blind trails have given him a tremendous start is not denied by officials.

Cleveland, Feb. 18.—Three men riding on a motorcycle and side car were seen to stop at Bean and State roads, shortly before the brutal murder of Misses Louise Wolf and Mabel Foote, Parma rural school teachers, Wednesday afternoon. Sheriff Stannard was informed today. Two of the men walked down the Bean road towards the scene of the crime while the third remained seated on the motor cycle, the sheriff was told.

Cable Nuggets
London, Feb. 18.—The first woman "killer" has just been employed by a slaughter house near London. She is Miss Violet Wood and she shoots the doomed animals in the head instead of using the old fashioned pole ax.

Sidney, Feb. 18.—The New South Wales government has decided to establish a dance hall in connection with parliament house.

London, Feb. 18.—There are more than 600 women's golf organizations in England with a membership of 1,000,000 according to the Daily Express today.

FIGHTS FIRE ON HIS MOTORCYCLE
Motorcycle Policeman Clark Stethem fought a fire on his motorcycle Friday morning, while testing police and fire alarm box No. 51 on Cincinnati avenue at Charles street.

The exhaust from the engine on the machine set fire to a blanket and other paraphernalia on the motorcycle, burning a large hole in the blanket and burning the insulation off connecting wires, before the officer could extinguish the blaze.

Paris, Feb. 18.—Serious disorders have occurred in Berlin, according to a Mayence dispatch printed in the Matin this morning.

The dispatch stated that telephone and telegraph communication between Mayence and Berlin is working badly.

All communications from Germany are declared to be subject to censorship.

ADOPTS REPORT.
Washington, Feb. 17.—The senate today adopted the conference report on the Gronna cold storage bill which prohibits the sale of perishable products in interstate commerce, which have been in storage more than 12 months.

WILL NOT ATTEMPT TO BRING EX-KAISER TO TRIAL ENGLISH PREMIER INTIMATES

Lloyd George Flings Caustic Answer To Member Of Parliament Who Criticised Him—Says One Nation Cannot Pay For War.

London, Feb. 18.—It is impossible for any one nation to pay the whole cost of the war, Premier Lloyd George declared today in a reply to a sensational statement issued by Horatio Bottomley, M. P. Mr. Bottomley had demanded the dissolution of parliament and the immediate trial of the ex-kaiser.

Premier Lloyd George ridiculed Mr. Bottomley's declarations and challenged him to collect the indemnity from Germany.

"If Mr. Bottomley should collect the German indemnity I suppose he would bring us shiploads full of worthless marks," said the premier. "If you and the rest of the opponents of the government's policy press for the impossible you will get nothing. It is impossible for any nation to pay the cost of the war, which we put at 50,000,000,000 pounds. Had England lost she could not have paid the bill in full."

Premier Lloyd George declared that the trials of "German war criminals" would be pressed to the very end.

"It is strongly to be suspected that Germany will send delegates to the London conference next month in ragged clothes," continued the premier.

The premier said that England and France were agreed that it was not worth while to risk war with Holland to attempt to bring force to get the ex-kaiser for trial.

(Note: The premier's declaration about the ex-kaiser's trial is accepted as confirmation of the story circulated by the International News Service that no further effort will be made to bring members of the Hohenzollern family to trial for their alleged war crimes.)

In his statement attacking the premier's German policy, Mr. Bottomley said that "Wilhelmstrasse is treating everything with cynical indifference."

WILSON RECEIVES
LETTER FROM NEXT PRESIDENT, FRIDAY

Harding Congratulates Wilson On Returning Health.

Washington, Feb. 18.—President Wilson today received a letter from President-elect Harding expressing gratitude over the apparent gain in health by the president and outlining the plans of the president-elect for inauguration day.

President-elect Harding accepted the president's offer to provide an inaugural luncheon but stated he did not wish it to be an elaborate affair and desired only the members of his immediate family present.

The president-elect stated that he was happy to note that the president has sufficiently recovered his health to be able to attend the theatres.

HARDWARE MEETING
ENDS ON FRIDAY

Columbus, Feb. 18.—Charles F. Hauck, Springfield, was elected president of the Ohio Hardware Association, succeeding Albert Zettler, Columbus, it was announced at the Desher Hotel, where the twenty-seventh annual convention is being held.

James B. Carson, Dayton, was elected to his tenth term as secretary and John F. Baker, Dayton, re-elected treasurer. Directors elected were: F. M. Potter, Cleveland, Robert W. McVay, Bellaire, A. R. Shipley, Richmond, William Griner, Toledo, F. A. Walther, Bucyrus, R. F. Fawcett, Salem, Miles J. Watson, Oberlin, Fred Neile, Zanesville, C. C. Heller, Beaver Dam and Charles W. Lammers, Madisonville.

A business session this morning, including a "question box" conducted by Miles J. Watson, president of the Lorain County Hardware Club, on "Group Meetings and What They Do for Members," concluded the convention.

ROTARY DELEGATES NAMED
Lexington, Ky., Feb. 18.—Rev. Benjamin Jay Bush, Frank B. Jones, Prof. R. E. Monroe, C. L. Ryley and Simon Wolf, were named to be delegates from Lexington to the International Convention of Rotary Clubs at Edinburgh, Scotland, June 13 to 17.

Parke, Feb. 18.—An unconfirmed report was current here today that the American forces of occupation on the Rhine may soon be withdrawn. The press prints a dispatch saying that the American representative on the reparations commission has been recalled.

WITHDRAW U. S. FORCES.
Mingo County Courthouse, W. Va., Feb. 18.—"Sid Hatfield told me just after the shooting that he had killed three of the Baldwin-Felts men," testified Squire Harry Staten of Matewan in the Felts murder trial today.

"Did he say which ones?" asked Captain S. B. Avis, examining for the state.

"He said he had killed Albert Felts, Lee Felts and C. B. Cunningham."

Shortly after the "battle of Matewan," Sid Hatfield kicked one of the bodies lying in the street, Bessie Hamilton swore on the witness stand today. She also testified she saw Hatfield and Reece Chambers search two bodies. She stuck to her kicking story under cross examination by J. J. Conniff, but admitted she did not see the two defendants put their hands in the pockets of the dead men.

JURY ACQUITS
CLEVELAND MAN; VERDICT READ

Jury Reaches Agreement and Delivers Finding at 11:20 Friday

CHARGE WAS MURDER

Man Freed at Second Trial Of Charge Of Killing Friend.

Cleveland, Feb. 18.—William H. McGannon, chief justice of the Cleveland municipal court, again walks the streets of Cleveland a free man. A jury of nine men and three women returned a verdict declaring him not guilty of the murder of his friend Harold C. Kaszy, at 11:20 this morning. The verdict was ready a few minutes before, but neither Judge nor defendant was available. Hurriedly the telephones were used, while Judge Maurice Berner, who presided at the first McGannon trial, which resulted in a disagreement after 48 hours of deliberation, was called to receive the verdict in place of Judge Homer G. Powell, who was ill at his home.

The defendant, who was at the home of his brother, Dr. A. C. McGannon on the west side having given up hope of an early verdict, was hurriedly summoned by his counsel. The auto carrying him to receive the verdict of his peers probably broke a few regulations regarding speed in its trip to the court house.

Just before 11:20 the jury filed into the court room.

"Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon a verdict?" asked Judge Berner after the time honored formula.

"We have," replied the former and the clerk read:

"We, the jury, find the defendant not guilty."

Scarcely had the reading been finished and the customary procedure been complied with, when Judge McGannon warmly grasped the hands of the twelve in turn, thanking each for the judgement rendered.

Friends of the accused jurist by the score crowded around him to congratulate him upon the result. The court room for a few moments was turned into a reception room for the late prisoner.

There are still pending charges of unprofessional conduct before the bar association. Whether these will now be pressed or dropped was undecided late today.

The jury deliberated eight hours and 40 minutes.

DR. SCULLEN NAMED TO SUCCEED BISHOP

Cleveland, Feb. 18.—Rev. Dr. William A. Scullen has been named administrator of the Cleveland Catholic Diocese, pending the appointment of a successor to Bishop John P. Farrelly, it was announced by the diocesan board of consultants.

Pontifical high mass of requiem for Bishop Farrelly was celebrated by Archbishop Henry Moeller of Cincinnati. Right Rev. John B. Morris, bishop of Little Rock, Ark., preached the funeral sermon.

Solemnity, deepened by the ancient ceremonies of the Catholic church, marked every part of the service, which opened by the chanting of 300 priests and seminarians of the office of the dead, and closed with the removal of the body from its place of honor in the cathedral sanctuary of crypt under the altar.

WHISKEY MAY BE TAKEN TO DWELLINGS

Washington, Feb. 18.—Whiskey now held in storage may be transported by the owners to their private dwellings under new regulations issued by the internal revenue bureau today. The rules are made to conform to a recent supreme court decision, holding that liquors can be removed and transported if the liquors were legally acquired before prohibition went into effect.

SEE COLD WEATHER NEXT WEEK

Washington, Feb. 18.—The weather bureau issued a special bulletin today predicting that the coldest weather of the winter will be experienced east of the Rocky Mountains during the next week.

"The cold weather will extend southward over the gulf of Mexico and South Atlantic states, carrying freezing temperature to the coast the first part of the coming week," the bulletin stated.

SCHEDULED TALKS ON PROGRAM FOR CITIZENS' COMMITTEE
Speakers Will Advocate Uniform Rule In Taxation.
Columbus, Feb. 18.—Addresses are scheduled to be made today before Governor Davis citizens taxation committee by Gus Kasch, Akron real estate dealer, Prof. G. H. Coalton, Hiram college, Attorneys L. J. Johnson, and M. E. Thraillkill Columbus, Judge F. M. Gieger, Springfield and Prof. S. K. Mardis, Ohio University, Athens. These men advocate the uniform rule in taxation.

They were preceded before the committee by supporters of the proposal that property be classified for taxation purposes, including Attorney Clarence C. Laylin, special counsel in the attorney general's office, Malcolm Jennings, Columbus, secretary of the Ohio Manufacturers Association, R. E. Miles, Columbus, Alfred Bettman, Cincinnati and W. S. Hayden, A. B. Thompson and H. H. Hampton, Cleveland.

The citizens committee is endeavoring to determine upon recommendations to be submitted to the state legislature not later than March 1, relative to appointment taxation program.

IS NEW SECRETARY OF ATHLETIC CLUB
Cleveland, Feb. 18.—J. Barker Smith who has been for 15 years, secretary of the Youngstown Country club and Youngstown Club has been chosen out of 12 candidates as the new secretary of the Cleveland athletic club. Smith succeeds Geo. Schneider, resigned.

WITNESS DECLARES HATFIELD GUILTY
Mingo County Courthouse, W. Va., Feb. 18.—"Sid Hatfield told me just after the shooting that he had killed three of the Baldwin-Felts men," testified Squire Harry Staten of Matewan in the Felts murder trial today.

"Did he say which ones?" asked Captain S. B. Avis, examining for the state.

"He said he had killed Albert Felts, Lee Felts and C. B. Cunningham."

Shortly after the "battle of Matewan," Sid Hatfield kicked one of the bodies lying in the street, Bessie Hamilton swore on the witness stand today. ## Of Interest to the Farmer

OVER 6,000 ATTEND FARMERS' MEETING

With over 6,000 farmers registered attendance records were once more broken during the Farmers' Week program at the Ohio State University held from January 31 to February 4. The attendance this year was over 400 more than last year, when 5,691 persons were registered. Over 1,100 more farmers attended this year than last, however. Last year 360 boys and girls winning free trips to Farmers' Week and 350 students remaining between semesters for the event were registered.

A special program was arranged for the youngsters last fall and few students were registered this year.

In 1913 when the first program was given 140 persons were registered; 1914, 770; 1915, 1,457; 1916, 2,892; 1917, 4,046; 1918, 2,607; 1919, 4,803; 1920, 5,691.

SOLD CARRIED OUT OF SOIL BY TILE

Tile drainage is an important means of warming the soil in the spring and thus making it fit for use, say experienced farmers.

F. L. Allen of Trumbull County reports having taken the temperature of rain water many times as it fell and then again as it emerged from the drain tile. The drainage water was 20 degrees Fahrenheit colder than the original rain water.

At this rate, specialists say that each inch of rainfall in the spring might be expected to raise the average temperature of the top 10 inches of soil 2.8 degrees Fahrenheit. The greater part of this heat would be left in the upper areas of the soil, thus raising its temperature considerably more than the average of 2.5 degrees.

Mr. Allen also points out that snow in the spring melts more rapidly on drained than undrained land. This he believes is due to the warmer temperature of the tiled soil.

WOULD LEGALIZE SUNDAY SHOWING OF FILMS IN OHIO

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—Legalizing Sunday showing of motion pictures, with a clause providing for a referendum, is embodied in a bill introduced in the House by representative Gilbert Taylor, of Norwalk, a dry leader in the Assembly. The bill prohibits motion pictures during the morning church hours and provides for a fine and imprisonment for the violation of this provision.

The bill, which is not what the picture industry wanted, is said to be a big concession on the part of the industry.

There is much more sentiment in the Legislature for the Taylor bill than has been manifested in previous sessions. The main reason for this is said to be the fact that the unemployment and general unrest in this country is turning to the motion picture house to aid in quieting this condition.

Another reason for the Taylor bill is that the Sunday motion picture law now on the statutes is not being enforced in more than two thirds of the communities in the state. It is urged that these communities are favored.

The referendum feature of the bill provides that any community may bar the Sunday motion picture, with the majority of the voters favoring a closed Sunday.

There is a voluntary movement among members of the picture theatre organization for closer censorship of pictures and for better productions.

With the resignation of E. P. Riddle, Republican member of the Board of Administration and the expiration of the term of Beecher W. Walter, Republican member of the State Utilities Commission, there are two additional appointments due this week. Riddle is going to Florida and Walter, who has opened a law office in Columbus, announcing that he will devote his time to the utility practice.

In political circles it is regarded as almost certain that E. A. Tinker, Chillicothe lawyer and former member of the House, will succeed Walter, appointed by Governor Willis six years ago, did not seek reappointment.

There is also a prohibition commissioner to be appointed, probably this week. Joseph A. Biard, of Bowling Green, has the backing of former State Chairman Charles S. Hatfield and Walter Brown for the job. George Stoughton, of Westerville, secretary of the Industrial Commission under Willis, is a candidate.

There is beginning to be keen competition for federal jobs as the inauguration ceremonies draw near. Newton M. Miller, who managed the pre-primary campaign for Senator Willis is spoken of as the successor of Beriah E. Williamson as internal revenue collector at Columbus and there is sharp competition between General R. V. McMaken and Attorney Lott, for the Toledo assignment.

There is some rumor to the effect that the reorganization program for state departments may go over for a time until the tax bill and the appropriation measures are out of the way. There is a disposition on the part of both Governor Davis and the members of the Legislature to make the deorganization measure a thorough one and there are many angles to be considered in the final draft of the bill. No aid is being given this program from Democratic sources.

FORMER TENOR DEAD
San Bernardino, Cal., Feb. 18.—The death of Pietro Buzzi, 58 years old, formerly Italian operatic tenor, was announced at the State Hospital, near here. His best-known role was that of Don Jose in "Carmen."

WILL OHIO BUTTER BE TAXED 10C POUND

Practically all of Ohio's annual butter production of 60 million pounds will be taxed 10 cents a pound if a ruling recently made by Attorney General Palmer stands. In his opinion on an act passed in 1902 by Congress, the attorney general holds that all butter made from neutralized cream shall be subject to the tax.

Since practically all of the butter in Ohio is churned from cream that is sour when it reaches the creamery, lime water is first added in order to neutralize acidity.

Up to the present, sweet cream has generally brought the producer no more money in Ohio than sour cream. With the tax in prospect, creamerymen have been seeking information on cream grading.

To meet this demand, the Dairy Department of the Ohio State University is offering a two-day course in cream grading for all persons interested, on February 21 and 22. F. W. Bouska of Chicago, butter expert of the American Association of Creamery Manufacturers, and faculty members of the dairy department will offer instruction.

A course for dairy manufacturers will also be held on February 23, 24 and 25. In addition to faculty members, O. F. Humzler, formerly chief of the dairy department of Purdue University and W. O. Frohning, Cleveland, Lewis Work, Springfield, and C. B. Harpster, Columbus, commercial creamerymen, will offer instruction.

SHORTS AND MIDLINGS.

Prune trees down rather than up.

No fruit trees should be higher than 25 feet and few should ever approach that height. Heading back will stimulate more lateral branch growth only when room is provided.

On many Ohio farms the bales follow closely upon the heels of the threshing outfit, and from these farms the soil's yearly contribution of potash is sold off in great blocks of golden straw.

"Gets-It" Ends All Corns

Just As Good For Calluses. Money Back If It Fails.

Thirty seconds after you touch the corn with this liquid corn remover the jabbing, stabbing pain of it stops for all time.

Simple As A, B, C.

No corn, hard or soft, is too old or too deeply rooted to resist "Gets-It." It immediately dries and shrivels, the edges loosen from the true flesh and soon you can peel it right off with your fingers as painlessly as you trim your nails.

Don't coddle corn pests. Don't nurse and pamper them. Don't cut and trim them. REMOVE them with "GETS-IT." Costs a trifle at any drug store. Mfd. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

With The Women of Today

American women are soon to have the pleasure of a visit from one of the foremost women scientists of the world. She is Mme Marie Curie, who co-discovered with her late husband that new element which is so valuable, radium. It is announced that she plans to visit this country very soon. Her visit will be the result of an invitation of Mrs. William Brown Maloney, editor of the Delinquent.

While in this country Mrs. Curie will receive one gram of radium as the gift of prominent American women. She will bring her young daughter with her. The girl is also a noted scientist although only 20 years old.

ODD BITS ABOUT WOMEN
For the second successive year the women students at the University of Wisconsin have averaged higher in scholarship than the men.

A committee appointed by the Dutch government to revise the municipal law of Holland has recommended that henceforth women shall be eligible to serve as mayor or clerk of any municipality.

Of the wives of presidents of the United States six bore no children—Mrs. Washington, Mrs. Madison, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Polk, the second Mrs. Fillmore and the present Mrs. Wilson. The largest families were those of President and Mrs. Will more.

TRADE MARK

FOR thirty-five years Henry Ford, a farmer's boy, has been working on the problem of a successful tractor for the farm, and for the past fourteen years has devoted much time and a vast amount of money to the development of the present Fordson Tractor. Today that Tractor is in use on nearly 200,000 farms and if you have any doubt as to the satisfaction it gives to those who are using it, call in and get the booklet, just issued by the Ford Motor Company, and called "The Fordson at Work" and read the testimony which is there given by the multitude of owners of Fordson Tractors. No evidence can be more conclusive than that of the man who actually knows by personal experience and this is the line of testimony carried in this little booklet. There is no cost for this booklet. If you cannot call for it, write, drop us a postal, and we will mail it to you without charge. It is so valuable you ought to have it because it is the open door through which the farmer will pass from the hard working drudge to the comparative comfort of the manufacturer. The Fordson makes it possible for the farmer to plan and direct, while the machine will do the work. It presents the widest latitude for the farmer to exercise his brain power and plan how he can get the most from the soil, knowing that the Tractor will do the hard work, do it better, do it quicker, and therefore do it more profitably. This means not alone in the cultivation of the soil, in the harvesting of the crops, but in a hundred and one different demands that are made for labor, cutting of ensilage and the filling of the silo; cutting of wood; operation of the washing machine; in the lighting of the house with electricity; supplying the house with running water; bringing to the farmer's wife and daughters the conveniences of the city, relieving them of much of the hard, unpleasant part of housework.

AUTONECESSITY COMPANY LEASES SITE ON DETROIT

The Xenia Auto Necessity Company operated by Carl Ervin and Robert Collins, at present located in the Manhattan building, on the West Market street side, has leased the room in the Post building, formerly the Gallagher building on South Detroit street, which was formerly occupied by the Higgins & Phillips clothing store, and will move into the new location Monday.

The room is now being remodeled for the occupancy of the company, which sells automobile parts and accessories, tires and does vulcanizing. The firm was started last summer and has gradually expanded since. With the announcement of the new location, the firm is also giving out the fact that it has leased the empty lot owned by Ed. S. Foust, next to its new location, and plans to put in a filling station there. The front of the lot is at present occupied by a sign advertising the proposed mausoleum, and the filling station project will not go through until this sign is abandoned.

NEW METHODS TO SEND PHOTOS

London, Feb. 18.—M. Hermos Petersen, a Norwegian engineer, has invented a new and speedier method for the telegraphic transmission of photographs, pictures and signatures, which he claims will revolutionize telegraphy. The new apparatus makes possible a system in which a typed script message with personal signature is handed in at a telegraph station, where it is charged according to square measure, and thence passed through the new machine and delivered to the addressee precisely in the same form as dispatched.

ESTIMATE LOSS OF FARM BUILDINGS CLOSE TO $11,000

The estimate of the loss of the fire that destroyed the contents of the corn crib and barn of the Earl McClellan farm on the Upper Bellbrook pike, early Thursday morning, was placed by Mr. McClellan Friday at $11,000.

The entire contents, including 2,700 bushels of corn, the stock of farm machinery and all the cattle excepting five horses and a few pigs were a total loss. The barn which was entirely destroyed was partially covered by insurance, amounting to $2500.

The fire which was discovered at 5 o'clock, Thursday morning was caused by crossed electric wiring in the barn. The ruins were reported still smoldering early Friday afternoon.

EXPECT TO CONCLUDE CASES ON FRIDAY

It is expected that the nineteen cases seeking injunction against collection of the special assessments levied by the city for street improvements originally assigned will be concluded Friday afternoon.

Nineteen of the 29 cases assigned were set by Judge R. L. Cowdy to be heard Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week by Judge Cleveland of Wilmington, but the cases were not finished in the allotted time hanging over until Friday morning.

The court recessed at noon until two o'clock Friday afternoon, when a few more witnesses were to be heard before the hearings would be concluded. Judge Cleveland is expected to take the cases under advisement before rendering a decision.

MANY CHURCHES WILL HOLD SERVICES OF MISSIONARY NATURE

Churches in Southern Ohio will in many cases, hold special services Sunday as a preliminary to a series of missionary conferences which will take place next week and which will form a part of a most comprehensive movement. Delegations from Baptist churches will meet at Marietta, Zanesville and Springfield during the week for two-days sessions which are but units in a nation wide series and which are of utmost importance. Similar meetings are being held in the 35 Northern States, and in these states the 10,666 churches comprising the Northern Baptist Convention are co-operating.

Missionaries from Baptist Mission stations in Africa, Assam, Burma, South India, East and West China and the Philippines are being called from furloughs, in this country to take part. Leaders in the denomination are laying aside other duties to share in the conferences.

Arrangements for the Ohio meetings have been under the direction of Rev. Charles E. Stanton, State Director of Promotion assisted by leading pastors and laymen. The objective of the meetings is a renewal of the missionary spirit in the denomination, and the effort will be continued in leading centers until March 20th.

Speakers in the team which will visit Ohio will include Dr. P. J. H. Lerrigo, M. D., candidate secretary of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, formerly a missionary himself, who now has the important task of seeing that the outgoing missionaries are in the best of physical condition as well as with the proper religious training. Another will be Rev. Brayton C. Case, head of the Baptist Agricultural School at Pyramina, Burma, a third Rev. Bruce Kinney, D. D., of Denver Col., a native of Ohio, who has made a name as an author, missionary executive and pastor, Miss Harriet Smith of Ningpo, China, and Mrs. F. S. Osgood of Chicago, of the Board of Managers of the Woman's American Baptist Home Mission Society, will represent the women on the team. The dates of the conferences will be as follows: Monday and Tuesday at Marietta; Wednesday and Thursday at Zanesville, Friday and Saturday at Springfield.

CINCINNATI WOMAN SUFFERED 15 YEARS

"I Will Always Feel Grateful To Tanlac," Says Mrs. Huffman After Health Is Restored—Says It Added Years To Her Life.

"Tanlac overcame my troubles that had kept me in wretched health for fifteen long years," said Mrs. B. Huffman, 1201 Harrison Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio. "My stomach had been giving me trouble all these years," continued Mrs. Huffman, "and I seemed to be getting worse all the time. I never cared for anything to eat, and the little I forced down soured on my stomach and caused gas to form and I would bloat badly."

"Sometimes I could hardly get my breath and my heart would feel like it was going to stop beating, and then at other times it would beat so fast I would become frightened. My nerves were so upset that I could never get a good night's sleep."

MISSING MAN IS FINALLY LOCATED

Joseph Malone, 43, formerly of this city, who was reported to Cincinnati authorities as missing since Monday, was reported located in the General Hospital Cincinnati, late Wednesday, according to the Cincinnati Times Star.

The missing man's sister, Mrs. John Teggs, of Latonia, Ky., had asked the police of Cincinnati and Covington, to search for her brother, who was a passenger train conductor on the Pennsylvania railroad. It was thought that he might be suffering from amnesia and had possibly fallen into the hands of thieves.

Malone left her home Saturday to call on the trainmaster at the railroad station in Cincinnati and did not reach there and the sister notified authorities.

As a result of a publication in the Times Star the man was identified at the General Hospital Wednesday. Malone became ill at Sixth and Walnut streets early Monday morning and was removed to the hospital. When he recovered he was able to give his name and that of his wife Florence Malone, who lives in the Moreland apartments in this city. Malone has been suffering from nervous trouble.

APPROPRIATION FOR ROADS IS DEFEATED

Washington, Feb. 18.—Provision for $100,000,000 for federal aid to states road building, proposed by Senator Swanson, Democrat of Virginia, as an amendment to the pending agriculture appropriation bill was defeated in the senate today.

The vote on a motion to suspend the rules to consider the appropriation was 42 for, 33 against. A two thirds vote is required for a suspension of senate rules the motion being lost by eight votes.

CARUSO BETTER.

New York, Feb. 18.—"Mr. Caruso had a good night and is distinctly improved this morning," said the statement issued by the five doctors attending the noted singer at noon today.

"The rumors of operations done or to be done are based on false information."

1901 FARE $14;

The presidential inauguration marked with any unusual ceremony March 4th, 1921, will not be monies, indeed it is being stated that they will be the most simple since the days of Lincoln, but whether the ceremony count or not, one is being made to pay real thing, than in the old days. Custom and expense have changed to the opposite extremes in the space of twenty years. When loyal Republicans became interested in the coming McKinley inauguration in 1901 and inquired into the railroad fare to Washington, they found it could be accomplished for the astounding sum of $14 a round trip.

Those who wish to see Warren G. Harding take the chair, March 4th, have found that the fare from Cincinnati to Washington, including Pullman berths breakfasts and all the modern comforts has risen in the space of 20 years to $78.

SETTLE CASE OUT OF COURT FRIDAY

The suit of Henry Devillias against Grover Brickley, was settled Friday out of court, by payment of the judgement of $187.35 asked for by the plaintiff as due on a promissory note.

The note was executed January 9, 1920, for $267 at six per cent, payable July 9, 1920. Credits had lessened the amount to $187.35 balance due on the note, instead of $687.35 as stated.

FIRST STEP TOWARD U. S. LINEN INDUSTRY.

A new industry for the United States, the manufacture of linen and fine linen products, is to be centered about Philadelphia within the next few years under the plans of a group of local capitalists and textile men.

Upon the use of a newly developed method of rotting the fiber flax depends the success of the project, which its backers expect will make Philadelphia the "Belfast of America" and the Delaware-Maryland-Virginia peninsula one of the important flax-growing regions in the world.

The method, successfully demonstrated last fall in an experimental plant built by the Chesapeake Flax and Linen Corporation, will be given its first extensive application this year in a $500,000 mill the company is to erect at Smyrna, Del. Other factories will be built, officials of the concern say, as rapidly as the demand and the increasing size of the fiber flax crops make necessary.

Although more than 2,000,000 acres of flax are grown annually in the United States, in Kentucky, Nebraska and North Dakota, practically the entire product is converted into linseed oil and cattle feed. Though flax for linen was grown in some quantity in the United States in its earlier history, most of the linen used here has always been imported. Ireland has supplied the bulk of it.

The difficulty in preparing the fiber for linen and the high cost here in treating it by the process used for centuries past have been the chief barriers in the past to the successful development of a linen industry in this country.

"By a process partly mechanical and partly chemical, or 'synthetic,' there can be accomplished in two hours what it has taken weeks and months to do in the past."

Tests show but little difference in the quality of the Delaware-grown, fibre treated by this new method and that produced in Ireland, leaders in the new company say.

CANCER, X-RAY AND CAUTION.

The achievements of modern surgery are so marvelous and the protection afforded the public by preventive medicine so thoroughgoing that most people are disposed to believe anything is possible with the scientific medical or surgical specialist. This being the case it is only common-sense prudence that would suggest certain caution, on the part of the public, in the issue raised by the use of X-rays in the treatment of cancer.

So baffling a disease as cancer, whose cause and origin and progress present so much of mystery in the individual cases, so terrifies the imagination that it is but natural that forlorn and afflicted humanity is disposed to be unduly optimistic when any change in the method of treatment is announced that indicates the possibility of alleviating or of checking the disease. The consequence is that there is too much expected of any of the known treatments practiced by the greater pathologists. Those who hope against hope inevitably make too much of discoveries that, however valuable they may be, are by no means that panacea, that absolutely sure cancer cure-all, that the sufferers, their friends and their relatives desire.

No greater boon could be given to modern civilization than the announcement that cancer could not only be prevented, but be cured. But painstaking investigators of cancer are not given over to unchecked optimism.

Speaking as one who knows the danger of X-ray, we say go cautiously, gentlemen. We have the evidence that in the use of this subtle substance, the proposed remedy is often worse than the disease. Better to suffer the ills you know about, than run the risk of others still more deadly, which the X-ray has often proved to be.

We all know of the cases of learned physicians who have sacrificed their lives in experimenting with X-ray on others. Other lives they may have been able to save, but in the end could not save their own. And worse yet, nobody else could counteract the deadly effect of the X-ray burn, and the heroic experimenter had to die.

So if you or your friends are victims of that dreaded disease cancer, it is just as well to give serious consideration before intrusting your lives to X-ray, which may prove worse than the disease itself.

ZION OVERSEER ASSERTS RIVERS WOULD SPILL IF PLANET TURNED OVER.

Columbus was all wrong. The earth is flat. The moon does not reflect the rays of the sun. The moon has nothing at all to do with the tides. The sun is only 3000 miles away; it is only thirty-two miles in diameter. The earth does not rotate. Instead, the sun travels around the earth. You don't believe it? Well, it's true, because Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion, says so. What's more, he offered $1000 to any astronomer or scientist who can prove him wrong.

Voliva, it seems, has been conducting a bit of astronomical research on his own hook. The best proof, he says, that the world doesn't rotate is found in the fact the waters in the rivers, lakes and seas are still with us. He claims that if the earth did turn upside down every twenty-four hours all the water would spill out.

HAVE GOOD APPETITE FEEL FULL OF PEP SINCE TAKING EARLE'S HYPO-COD HE SAYS

Most everything he ate before would cause him to have indigestion

READ STATEMENT BELOW

"I suffered from a general rundown system, had a very poor appetite, and it seemed like most everything I ate would hurt my stomach so I bought Hypo-Cod after seeing it advertised and am feeling fine now, have a good appetite, eat anything, and sure feel full of pep. I don't see how anyone can help being helped by Hypo-Cod—everything that is in this tonic is good. It has helped me and I have recommended it to my dad as he needs a good tonic," declared Mr. M.

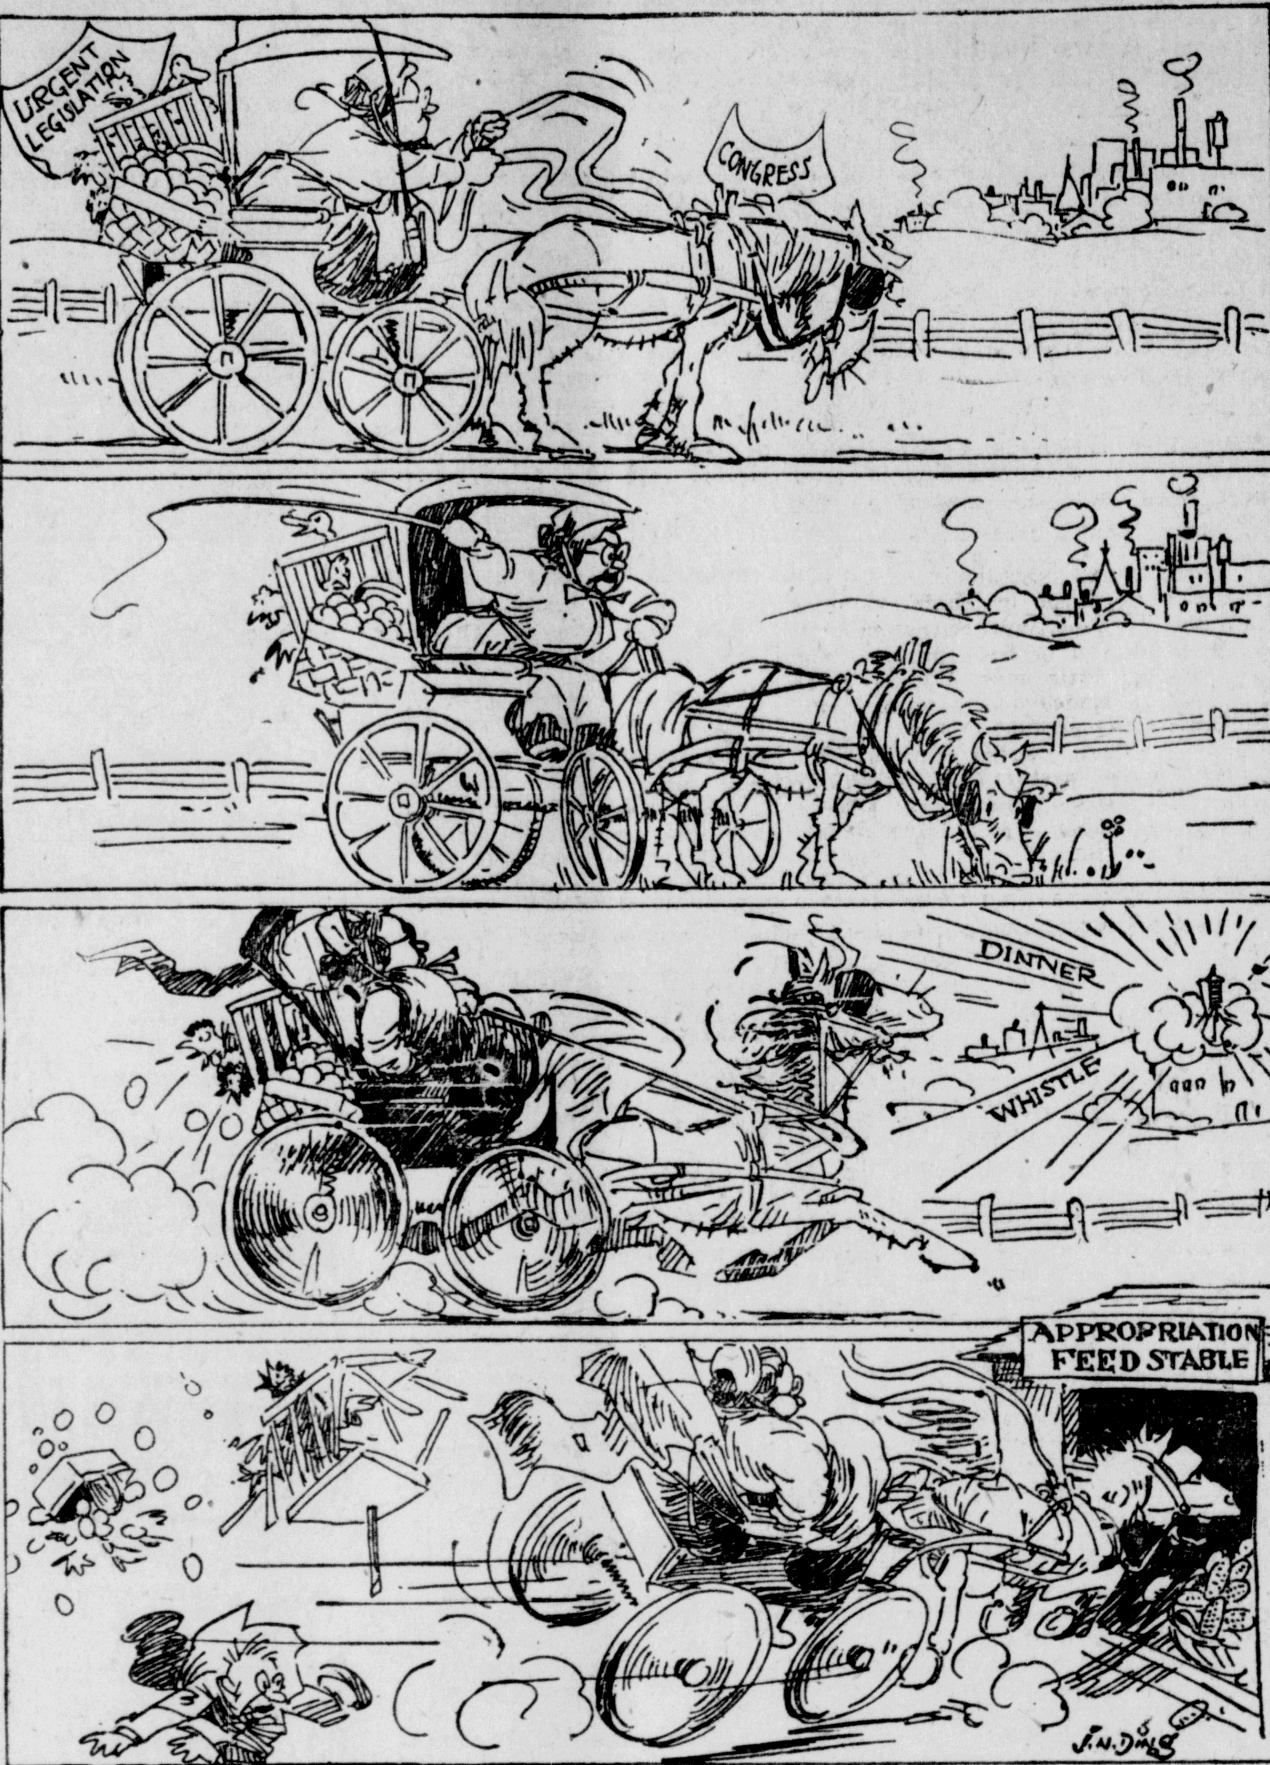

M. Sarver, of Railway Y. M. C. A., Columbus, Ohio

It's a grand and glorious feeling to tumble out of bed after a real night's sleep—with a good appetite—feel like working all day—come home nights feeling like a boy again.

When your system is in good shape old mother nature throws off sickness, coughs, colds and other troubles like water off a duck's back. Drop in at the drug store tonight. On your way home and get a bottle of two of the genuine Earle's Hypo-Cod, in the famous orange colored carton, with formula printed on it, that druggists, chemists and experts assert is good. You'll be delighted.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by all good druggists and the leading druggists in all nearby towns.

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

L. F. Clevenger is planning to leave soon for Buffalo, New York and see what the prospect is for business at the Pan-American Exposition. Mr. Clevenger expects to remain there the coming summer.

The damage to the Schmidt ice houses by fire some time ago is being rapidly repaired. The large double house is now about as good as ever and the other house will be rebuilt as soon as possible.

The indications are that Xenia will be well represented at the inauguration of William

McKinley at Washington, March 4th, a great many inquiries being made at the Pan Handle concerning the rates and terms which are being offered by the railroad to excursionists. The rate from Xenia to Washington and return will be $14 being one fare for the round trip.

Mr. Ed Keyes, manager of the Western Union has been solicited to become a candidate for councilman for the Fifth ward and will make the race. Ed has been down the line before and will understand how to make a good race.

ANKLE MESSAGE

Slim ankles, like slender hands, are considered a sign of gentility and are the desire of every woman. Most people possess slim ankles; those who do not are usually too stout all over.

A great many of my readers write to me and ask whether massage will make thick ankles slender. It will to a certain extent. In any case, it is worthy trying, if you are one of the few people whose ankles are too thick for beauty.

But if your ankles are too thick, my first bit of advice would be to wear high shoes all the time, particularly laced shoes, which can always be drawn snugly about the ankles. Whether it is the snugness of the lacing or the friction of the shoe, is not known, but the result always is that the ankles grow slender when high shoes are constantly worn.

As for the massage, there is no particular method that is more valuable than any other method. If you will hold your hands at each side of the ankles and massage vigorously using the familiar circular motion that you use for facial massage you will have as good success as experts who claim to make ankles thin.

You can be as vigorous as you wish in massaging the ankles. You will also have to be patient, for it takes a long time to see results. Of course if you are too stout, you will reduce your ankles when you reduce your entire body.

PUBLISHER'S RESPONSIBILITY

Much democratizing reading is printed on the plea that "the public wants it." A mother might as exuberantly give her child the glistering arsenic for which it cries. The publisher bears a responsibility to society like that of the preacher or the teacher. This, at any rate, is the view of the Publishers of the Youth's Companion. From its first issue to the present it has been a constant force for character building. And with all that it has been so wisely edited that no publication exists of more varied charm, more inexhaustible and refreshing sources of interest.

The 52 issues of the coming year will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Only $2.50 for an amount of reading equal to thirty-five volumes of fiction, humor, etc. THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, Commonwealth Ave., & St. Paul St. Boston, Mass.

is even more essential in financial than in industrial management. Observance of it for nearly 30 years has enabled this institution to pay its modest running expenses and accumulate a surplus in excess of $95,000, out of 1% of the money it has handled.

This has made possible our flexible plan by which we can increase the interest on certificates of deposits when scarcity of money increases rates on loans.

DAYS OF STRESS.

Through weary years of war we wrought, our hearts oppressed by doubt and care, for every dismal morning brought some tale of bloodshed and despair, while blood drenched armies toiled and fought the endless battles "over there." All through the war we saved and pinched, tried self denial till it hurt, that Kaiser Wilhelm might be cinched and dumped, defeated, in the dirt; we thought that fellow should be lynched who bought himself a Sunday shirt. And when the guns at last were stilled, and placed in soak were sword and lance, and warriors no longer drilled across the sodden fields of France, the bosoms of the boys were filled with thoughts of pomp and circumstance. For we had lived like hermits gray, and hermits have a beastly time; they live on turnips, peas and hay, and think a sirloin steak a crime, and so we rose and threw away the franc, the kopeck and the dime. And now this later phase is spent, and sanity resumes her throne, and every wise and thoughtful gent reveres the doubloon and the bone, and to the bank he takes a cent, to start a bundle of his own. Released from wartime's doubt and dread, and having lived reaction down, oh, there are better days ahead for every delegate in town; so let us walk with sprightly tread, and spring the smile and dump the frown.

NO CLEWS DEVELOP INTO ROBBERY OF TOLEDO POST OFFICE

Toledo, O., Feb. 18.—There is absolutely no clew to the identity or whereabouts of the bandits who early yesterday morning held up employees of the government at the postoffice here and escaped with eleven sacks of mail, six of which contained registered mail. The exact amount of the loot has not yet been ascertained, but is believed to have been between $300,000 and $400,000. The thieves overlooked one sack of registered mail from New York containing $150,000 in currency consigned to a Toledo bank. A high priced hat purchased in Detroit was found in an automobile which is believed to have been abandoned by the bandits.

COUNTY AUTO CLUB DECIDES AGAINST BILL AT MEETING

Committee members of the Greene County Automobile Club expressed themselves as being decidedly against the bill now pending in the House to license all drivers of automobiles, at a luncheon and smoker held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Thursday evening.

A request for support of the bill was made by the Cleveland Safety Council, but while members of the local organization expressed themselves as being favorable to the general plan, features of the bill that were objectionable led to the organization taking action condemning it. Secretary F. J. Slackford was instructed to write letters to the State Senator in this district and to the Greene County Representative asking them to vote against the bill.

The placing of road signs and the routing of principal highways was taken up at the meeting, and Dr. A. C. Messenger, president of the Club, appointed a committee to take care of this phase of the club's work. The committee consists of T. H. Zell, chairman, S. M. McKay, and W. J. Davis. A plan of routing was suggested by Secretary Slackford, whereby colors would be used to identify the main highways, leading from this city, and the plan was looked upon favorably by the members present.

Frank Fisher was appointed chairman of a committee consisting of Theophil White, Paul Petz and Henry Binder to see the Greene County Commissioners in regard to placing of a standing reward for the arrest of auto thieves and the recovery of stolen cars, such as the practice in many counties.

A joint automobile picnic of the Greene County Clubs, to be held next summer was tentatively discussed although action will be taken later. Jacob Kany, who served the luncheon of sandwiches and coffee at the Thursday night meeting was elected as honorary member of the club at the meeting.

DOUBLE BILL WILL BE OFFERED FRIDAY

In order to supply the basketball fans of this city with a real attraction when Central High mixes it with Circleville High at the rink Friday night, St. Brigid's High School team has been booked for a conflict with the Central High second team.

The double bill will start at seven o'clock with Parochial lads and the Public school quintet, getting together in the opening engagement. The final affair should prove more than interesting. Last year, the blue and white five, were badly defeated by the Circle lads in their own balliwick, and they are out to avenge this defeat when the teams get together here Friday.

CARUSO'S CONDITION REPORTED FAVORABLE

New York, Feb. 18.—The condition of Enrico Caruso, the famous Italian tenor, who is critically ill in his apartment at the Hotel Vanderbilt, continues favorable, it was announced early today.

"Mr. Caruso is holding the improvement that he showed," Dr. F. J. Murray, house physician at the Vanderbilt said shortly before 8 o'clock. Earlier in the morning, Bruno Zirato, the singer's secretary, had informed newspaper men that the patient was resting comfortably and continued to show the improvement that marked his condition yesterday. Zirato stated that while Caruso is still in a critical condition strong hopes are held for his recovery.

MAY RETURN POST OFFICE JOBS TO OLD SYSTEM IS REPORT

Postoffice jobs, at present tied up by civil service according to the plan instituted by President Wilson some time ago, are to be taken out, dusted off, and placed in the show case with the handsomely engraved label, "political-plums," by President-elect Warren G. Harding.

All of this means, that good and staunch Republican workers will again have opportunity to pluck one of these much-sought-after jobs as the prize and award for good and noble deeds. The announcement of the cutting loose of the 11,536 postoffice jobs now tied up under the civil service, marks the return to the old system of "government by political parties," to which Mr. Harding has so often expressed adherence.

Under the change to the old system, as formerly, the Republican Congressmen will have the right to endorsements, with the approval, it is thought, of the Republican committee of the particular county named. On this endorsement the presidential appointment will be based, as in the past. The one exception to the rule of Congressional endorsement is that every Republican United States Senator will have the right to name the Postmaster in the city in which he lives, whether the Congressional district in which the office is located is represented in the lower branch of Congress or not.

In this state, about 450 presidential postoffice appointments will be released from civil service when President-elect Harding revokes the executive order that made that plan a law. It is not the intention, however, to oust Democratic postmasters, whose appointments have already been confirmed for fixed terms, provided, of course, their service is not objectionable, but when their terms expire their successors will be named on political endorsements. Under this branch of the rules, Postmaster H. E. Rice will continue in office here, as his appointment was confirmed last summer, and there will likely be no discussion on over the incumbency of the local office. Xenia is one of 148 offices in Ohio that pays a salary greater than $2,000 a year.

ADVERTISING PAYS FOR ITSELF; AN OLD QUESTION ANSWERED

Who pays for the advertising? That was an old conundrum when Heck was a pup and as you no doubt know Heck is a very old dog now.

But then, as now, the conundrum had an answer.

And the answer is: Advertising pays for itself.

Which is to say that neither the consumer nor the dealer pays for the advertising in either higher prices or lowered quality.

There's an illustration which has been going the rounds for a long while now. It is worth repeating here.

X and Z are competitors in the manufacture of rubber nipples for babies' feeding bottles. Both produce 100,000 nipples a year neither advertises. The nipples cost each man 12 cents each to make and they are sold to the dealer for 14 cents. Thus each manufacturer makes a profit of 2 cents on each nipple he sells.

X determines to advertise and appropriates 1 cent on each nipple sold and presently finds his market expanded to a demand for 200,000 nipples a year.

When he gets to making 200,000 nipples a year he discovers that economies in manufacture thus made possible make his factory cost 10 cents.

So that instead of making 2 cents on each nipple he's making 3 cents and selling twice as many.

So next year he increases his appropriation to 2 cents per nipple, sells 300,000 and gets his factory cost down to 8 cents—a profit of 4 cents—and the price still remains 14 cents to the dealer.

Thus encouraged the third year he increases his advertising appropriation to 4 cents for every nipple sold and enjoys a distribution of 500,000—and through further economies made possible through huge quantity production, he gets the factory cost down to a bed rock figure of 5 cents per nipple. Then he decides that his profit is too long and cuts the price to the trade to 12 cents, 2 cents lower than the beginning price—and makes 4 cents profit.

Meanwhile Z continues his enterprise without advertising and is found standing still—his factory cost continues at 12 cents, profit 2 cents and the dealer's price 14 cents.

X is clearly in the commanding position—he got there through advertising. He sells his nipple to the trade for 2 cents less, which affords the dealer an opportunity to make a longer profit—and you can guess whose nipple he buys and pushes.

Meanwhile X is making 4 cents against Z's 2 cents profit.

Thus the advertising paid for itself gave dealer and manufacturer a longer profit cost the consumer no more and probably in some cases less.

Good advertising pays in its own way every time.—Merchandising Advertising.

Jason Rodgers of the New York Globe has the following to add: "The writer of the above article failed to drive home even a stronger argument by imagining Manufacturer X, having the conception of a Henry Ford.

"Suppose he had decided that a profit of 2 cents a nipple was all he wanted and had then let advertising do its utmost.

"If he secured a sale of 500,000 for a profit of 4 cents per nipple it is safe to say that through advertising and lower prices made possible through increased traffic he would

"They WORK while you sleep"

A Dependable Physic when Bilious, Headachy, Constipated and Upset.
10, 25, 50c—drugstores.

have sold 2,000,000 or more at 2 cents profit.

"Ford wanted $100 profit a car when he started out and got a market or over 1,000,000 a year and upwards of $100,000,000 profit.

"Advertising will sell increasing volume of goods at lower prices to the consumer, enormous profit to the advertiser, and pay for itself through increased traffic.

"Advertising will sell increasing volume of goods at unfairly high prices and is doing so every day for those of narrow vision regarding possibilities.

Is It Yours?

"BLOODY MARY"

February 18, 1516.

Mary I, Queen of England, unpleasantly remembered as the "Bloody Mary," on account of the religious persecutions during her reign, was born at Greenwich, near London, in 1516. She was the first child of Henry VII and Catherine of Aragon, born early in their married life, long before Henry wanted to divorce his wife.

She was a most precious child, for we read of her entertaining visitors by playing music when she was four years old, and of being able to converse in Latin when she was nine. Unfortunately for her, she was used as a means for bargains and treaty making between England and other nations. She was proposed as the wife of the Dauphin of France, then as the wife of the Dauphin's father, King Francis I.

leyn, her very life was in danger because of the queen's hatred. She had been kept away for years from her own mother. Things were not much better during the brief reign of her young brother Edward VI, but on his death, she became queen and was able to do the one thing she wanted most, which was to make England Catholic.

The Protestants were cruelly persecuted, though it was probably not the queen's fault. Possibly the persecutions turned the feeling of the Country towards Protestantism. At all events, when the queen died, at the age of 42, the country turned with enthusiasm to her younger sister Elizabeth, who became a Protestant ruler.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur changes its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it works so naturally and evenly that it can tell it has been applied. It simply dampens a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and grows glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure or prevention of disease.

PIRATE HAUNTS NOW SHELTER RUM RUNNERS OF GRAND BANKS, FLORIDA

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 18.—On Scotch distilleries and Cuban cane fields. For the centre of the supply and the great distributing point for much of the liquor which is reaching the United States is among the cays of the Grand Bahama Banks.

Fifty Miles From Florida
Gun Cay is the rum runners' rendezvous. Port Royal, the old pirate capital, in its palmiest days never pried a more profitable trade in Spanish treasures snatched from sunken galleons. This liquor distributing centre is a coral island little more than a mile long and 100 yards wide.

Less than fifty miles off the Florida coast, its low lying rocks would be undistinguishable to the landsman from any distance were it not for a squat red lighthouse which marks the channel in the reef. Approaching it from the Florida side, it seems deserted for its one house faces the broad Atlantic to the eastward. Soon, however, the tips of slender topmasts show above the green palms and underbrush, and as the queuing vessel swings past the narrow barrier in the reef with the surf breaking close to port and starboard, the rum runners' fleet is revealed at anchor.

Seldom are there less than ten or a dozen craft swinging lazily with the tide. Schooners, sloops, yawls and motor craft there are, and sometimes a dingy steam tramp with smoke curling slowly from her funnel shows that shipments direct from the banks of Thames and Clyde are not lacking. The decks of many are piled high with cases bearing names now less familiar in the United States than of yore. The square bottles of Gordon, the well-remembered signature of Peter Dawson, the pinch bottles and five stars of Haig and Haig, show that the British still find a market across the Atlantic.

On some vessels, a carelessly flung scrap of dingy canvas veils the name and port on bow and counter, but others flaunt both with apparent unconcern. For they are peaceful freight carriers, ostensibly about their lawful occasions. There is small doubt, however, that no craft approaches unseen and the crews lolling about the decks in apparent unconcern, as the visiting craft winds among the fleet are said never to move far from a rifle hidden from view behind a gunwale.

Like Pirate Crews
And the crews, Captain Kidd or Blackbeard or old Captain Waiting never had crews who better looked their parts.

Caribs from the isles, negroes from Jamaica, mixed bloods and hard-faced white men from every port of the Caribbean, they loiter about the decks, bearded and unkempt. They wear the same white cotton trousers roiled to the knees, the same board hats and bandannas and the same vivid shirts as their brethren of the freebooting days. Only the gold earrings and the cutlasses and pistols in their belts are lacking. These have been replaced, it is said, by those who have dealt with them—have been replaced by good gold coin and more modern weapons.

Activity at Night
If Gun Cay is peaceful and lazy during the day it is active at night, it is said. With dusk silent craft, with portholes covered and exhausts muffled, slide in the direction of the squat lighthouse. It is equally a breach of etiquette and equally dangerous to inquire too closely into the identity lights as it was to make searching inquiries of strangers in Leadville in the 60's.

Return with Gold
They come and go, none knows whence or whither. But they bring good gold with them and take good Scotch away. Steamer or later cargoers are sold by stealth in ports from Baltimore to Galveston. Florida alone has 1,200 miles of coast line with hidden harbors galore. And there are less than a score of prohibition enforcement officers to watch this coast.

If Gun Cay is the wholesale centre of the business of the Bahama Banks, Bemini is the social capitol. It also is a beautiful tropical island less than forty-five miles from Miami Beach, Camp fish surround it, but all the sharks are not in the waters. It is readily reached either by water or air.

STATE BUREAU TELLS WHY THE BLOOM BILL ON GAME LAWS LOST

A comment on the Bloom bill designed to change radically state fish and game laws, has been received by Robert Kingsbury, secretary of the Greene County Fish and Game Protective Association, from the Bureau of Fish and Game at Columbus.

The communication entitled "Why the Bloom Bill was defeated" is as follows:

The Bloom bill H. B. 59, introduced by Mr. Bloom of Fremont, died in committee. It was opposed by the League of Ohio Sportsmen, by the Bureau of Fish and Game, and by Commercial Fishermen, and had no support except from Fremont. Dr. Sackett et al. who framed the bill being its only backers.

This bill in substance was turned down by the sportsmen at large at the Convention in Columbus Dec. 3rd, and was drawn without cooperation with the Bureau of Fish and Game, and in fact many of its provisions were kept secret from the Chief of the Bureau until time to introduce it in the legislature.

The bill as presented unindorsed by sportsmen at large, or by any interests except from Fremont individuals, provided among other things the following:

1. The hook and line fishing season in the inland fishing district should be from May 31st to September 1st only. You could fish in Ohio in the inland district with hook and line only during dog days.

2. Gill nets to be used in Sandusky Bay. (Everyone who understands netting knows that a gill net will kill every fish it catches, and those that may escape are permanently injured. All game-fish ensnared in it would be killed.)

3. The limit on wild ducks to be cut down to five a day and Dr. Sackett even argued in favor of three ducks a day.

4. It would have thrown over 700 commercial fishermen out of work and made useless nearly $1,000,000 worth of commercial fishing equipment, and would have shut off a valuation food supply, and taken valuable property off the tax duplicates. The Chamber of Commerce of Sandusky City the territory most affected opposed this. Sportsmen at large opposed it.

5. It was brought out in the legislative committee that there was every appearance that there was an effort to drag all the sportsmen of Ohio into a personal quarrel between one Fremont man and the shooting clubs.

6. The bill ripped up the splendid new code the sportsmen of Ohio worked hard to have passed by the legislature. It was kept in the dark from the Fish and Game Department as much as possible. Had the department been consulted, defects and ridiculous sections, could have been avoided. Sportsmen associations in many parts of Ohio wired or drew resolutions asking the legislative committee to kill the bill.

7. In the manner in which it was drawn, and the way the proposition was handled, it did not look good to the legislative committee or to the sportsmen at large. It could have worked only confusion, and dissatisfaction, and could have been a detriment, had it passed.

Pollution Bill.

The bill to clear up stream pollution is still being considered. Ohio manufacturers state it is so drastic they could not possibly comply with its provisions as drawn. The Ohio Manufacturers Association is showing a spirit of cooperation and arrangements are being perfected to give a demonstration and exhibit of the treatments of stream pollution, before a committee from the Manufacturers' Association, and the legislative committee, and to form the needed legislation, such as will lead to clearing up polluted streams without hampering industry—in a manner of benefit to industry as well as to the sportsmen and the general public.

The bill endorsed at the sportsmen's convention to adjust the seasons on fur bearing animals, passed the house by a good majority. It will come before the Senate within a few days and it is believed it will have little opposition.

The bill to establish free hunting grounds, in Southern Ohio and the Lake Erie marshes is ready for the hopper, and no opposition has been heard to it as yet.

for flying boats make its harbor their landing place daily.

Roulette Ball Rolls

Adjoining the footrail is the Palace of Chance, where the drone and click of the ivory ball among the tenets of the roulette wheel sound a warning as unmistakable as the whirr of a rattlesnake. Few heed the warning however, until bitten. Play for small stakes is discouraged. The ceiling is the limit. It is a high ceiling and a large, gray, stout man, well known in New York Sporting circles, stands unobtrusively about ready to lift the ceiling if any patron demands it. Hazard finds some few devotees, but the faro table is often deserted. Too technical a game for the uninitiated, the croupier with the agile artist's fingers declines to "open up for less than

AVIATOR IS REPORTED MISSING

Army planes from Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas, cowboys and Texas Rangers are searching for Lieutenant Alexander Pearson, Jr., the United States flier from Douglas, Ariz., who has not been heard from since he left El Paso for Kelly Field several days ago. Lieutenant Pearson had planned the Twelfth Aero Squadron, to leave Pablo Beach, Fla., on Washington's Birthday in an attempt to reach San Diego, Cal., within twenty-three hours. Only two stops between the starting and stopping point had been chosen in the State of Texas. The first stop being at either Houston or Dallas and the second at El Paso.

$100." That is to say $100 is the smallest amount of checks sold.

It is said that before prohibition the island of Bemini owed the British Government about $450,000. Now, it is claimed, the little community has a balance of some $1,600,000 on the right side of the imperial ledger.

There is money in the Bahama Banks.

ON THE JOB EVERY DAY

Red-Blooded Men and Women Are Seldom Sick

WATCH YOUR BLOOD CONDITION

If You Look Pale, Feel Gloomy and Run-Down, Take Pepto-Mangan and Build Up

You see men and women who are never sick. They work hard, look robust, eat heartily and enjoy life. They have plenty of rich, red blood. That is why they are never ill.

People who try to get along with weak, impoverished blood always have a struggle. They go from one sickness to another. Children the same way.

If you keep your blood rich and red you'll enjoy full vigor. Disease has little chance to develop in healthy blood. As soon as you feel run-down take Pepto-Mangan for awhile. It will feed your blood with the ingredients needed to create a good supply of red corpuscles.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer. They are alike in medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine "Pepto-Mangan—Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package. adv

ROBERT BIRD DIES THURSDAY NIGHT; SICK FOUR WEEKS

Robert Bird, for many years a prominent merchant of Cedarville, died Thursday at 11:20 p. m. at the McClellan hospital after an illness of four weeks from catarrhal fever which developed an infection of the mastoid bone necessitating an operation performed Monday Feb. 7. He rallied from the operation which was successful but owing to his weakened condition was unable to previous weakened condition was unable to combat the course of the disease.

He was born April 2nd, 1858, at Cedarville and was the son of Bloss and Ellen Bird, of a long and prominent line of English ancestors. His father was a stone mason and building contractor well known for his work in and about Cedarville and Greene County.

He received his education in the Cedarville public and high schools. In April 1880 at the age of 22 he took over the grocery store of his sister, Mrs. Julia Condon, located in the small red brick building still standing on South Main street, starting with a very limited capital and stock, which due to his indefatigable industry and integrity have since grown to the present extensive business. In 1882 the store was moved to the northwest corner of Main street and Xenia avenue now occupied by the new Exchange bank building and in 1890 to its present location on the opposite corner. In Aug 1915 due to the increasing size and extent of the lines of merchandise handled and the failing health of Mr. Bird the business was reorganized under the present name of Robert Bird and sons Co.

It can be said of Robert Bird that he was a self made man and although of a quiet unassuming nature he numbered his business and personal friends by the score because of his genial democratic disposition.

On April 11th, 1888 he was united in marriage to Aletha Stevenson of Xenia and to them were born five children all of whom survive him. The children are Frank and Mrs. Lloyd Confort of Cedarville both of whom are actively connected with the store, Fred, who is an assistant to the Superintendent of Mandel Brothers Department Store in Chicago, Harry who is pursuing a course in pharmacy in Philadelphia, and Mary at home. He is also survived by his two sisters, Mrs. Julia Condon now in Florida and Mrs. H. A. Turnbull of Cedarville.

As a young man he attended the M. E. Church and shortly after his marriage, he and his wife united with the U. P. Church, which he has attended faithfully ever since and served in the capacity of trustee for a number of years.

Funeral services will be held at the U. P. Church in Cedarville Sunday afternoon at 2:00 in charge of his pastor Rev. J. P. White. Interment in Massie Creek cemetery.

CONDUCT FUNERAL FOR JULIA HARNER AT THE HOME

Funeral services for Miss Julia Helen Harner were held at the late home on the Clifton pike, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and were in charge of Rev. Pim of the Friends Church. A quartet composed of Miss Ailie Swadener, Mrs. Benjamin Dice, Melvin Swadener and Oscar Whitlow, accompanied by Miss Bette Swadener, offered three hymns, "My Savior," "He Knows it All," and "Just When I Need Him Most."

Pal bearers were Earl Platter, Horace Platter, Floyd Platter, Ralph Stevens, Everett Harner and William Harner. Burial was made at Woodland cemetery this city.

HOUSE WARMING

Chapter 94
"I shall give a housewarming!" Juanita declared when I had finished the bungalow. "I won't ask many, but you should get better acquainted anyway, and this will be a good time to introduce you."

"Don't make it too dressy an affair or I shan't be able to come," I told her. I had put every penny she paid me, a very generous sum toward what we called our "building fund." "I have made over all my clothes until it is impossible to do anything more with them, so I shall be sure to look out of date."

Yet as I said it I had no feeling that I wanted to buy new clothes. That desire had been killed in me when I saw Dick with a revolver in his hand, ready to kill himself because of my love for clothes. Is it any wonder I cared nothing for them now save that I wanted to look neat and in good taste because of Dick and Junior?

"You always look nice," Juanita answered.

"Neat but not gaudy!" I replied laughingly, then dismissed the subject. Juanita had said she would only ask a few people. I would do my best not to shame either her or Dick. Beyond that I gave it no thought.

"Why don't you buy yourself something with part of that money you made decorating the bungalow?" Dick asked.

Long afterward I remembered that he never spoke Juanita's name as he did at first, when he mentioned it as easily as I did.

"No, that will allow us to commence building. We can have the house up by fall. Then we can decorate and fix up one room at a time until it is all finished. It won't cost us much as I shall do every bit of it, even the painting, myself."

"You mustn't do too much, Nan."

"I won't! It will be a joy to fix up our home, Dick, and to know when it is finished it is really ours."

No debts, no mortgage!" "Yes, it will be nice," he returned vacantly, without animation, and I noticed he flushed when I spoke.

A fear flashed through me turning me cold with dread. Was Dick feeling ill again? Had his literary work, to which at times he gave slavish attention, been too strenuous for him? Had it confined him too closely? I looked at him more critically than I had for some time. But no—he looked very well; was a good healthy color, and his eyes were bright. What had been the meaning of his flush, and his seeming indifference?

Perhaps he wanted to wait longer and put up a better, a larger house? My heart sank at the thought. I was getting better prices for his stories and the small house we had planned looked very attractive and convenient to me. But I would not object to waiting another year if it would make Dick happier. He was getting better prices for his stories all the time, and he probably thought it better to wait and see what the future held in store for him. So I said:

"Have you changed your mind about building, Dick?"

"No, why do you ask?"

"I thought you acted indifferent."

Dick flushed again, then laughed a little at me because of my imagination.

"You should have been the story-writer not me."

"I only wish I could write stories. But making house-poems seems my limit." Long ago he had said that I made a certain house a "poem" because of the delicate, artistic way in which I had re-draped and re-finished it.

"Perhaps your poems will live longer than my stories!"

"Nonsense! You are depressed to day over something. You don't feel ill, do you?" my first fear recurring.

"Now I'll say 'nonsense!' Do I look like a sick man?"

"No, but I was trying to account for your seeming indifference about the house. If you want to change the plans, to wait another year, and build a better house, why we can get along as we are."

"No, indeed. I know how cramped it is for you Nan. I have the only really comfortable place on the whole ranch. You have been very generous."

Now his tone was humble, unlike its usual rather arbitrary ring. "He's just in one of his moods," I said to myself, and left him.

Tomorrow—A setting for beauty.

AVIATOR TELLS THRILLING TALE OF WANDERINGS

Army Flier Lost For Six Days In Mexico Is Rescued.

LOST IN DESERT Floats Down River In Old Tub To A Goat Camp.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 18.—A thrilling story of the wanderings of Lieut. Alexander Pearson, Jr., army flier, who was lost for six days in Mexico, south of the Big Bend country along the Rio Grande, was told here with the arrival of Major Henry C. Pratt, air officer of the eighth corps.

Major Pratt was the first man to greet Pearson when he reached civilization. His story is the first authentic report and will be forwarded to Washington by corps headquarters.

Pratt's story follows:

"After Pearson landed his ship, due to motor trouble, he spent all of Thursday afternoon searching for the Rio Grande. He continued his search throughout the night and all day Friday. He was cut by prickly cactus and blinded by sandstorms.
Weak from lack of food and having used his half filled canteen of water he tried to sleep Friday night but hunger and thirst prevented. Early Saturday morning, nearly exhausted, he stumbled through a canyon and,
guided by the croaking of frogs,
found the stream.

"A quarter of a mile from where he quenched his thirst he saw a raft on the other side of the river and after resting he swam across to it.
After binding some additional boards to the raft which proved to be a discarded wash tub, with strips torn from his clothing, he floated down the stream all day and night.

"Shortly after daybreak Sunday
he sighted the goat camp or the rutledge brothers and hailed the two goat keepers. They accompanied him to the ranch house, taking turns walking beside the horses in order that Pearson might ride.

"At the ranch house which was deserted but well stocked with food he ate for the first time since Thursday morning. His condition was so weak from exposure and lack of nourishment however, that the goat keepers would not permit him to start on the trip to Sanderson until he had recuperated.

"Wednesday afternoon they furnished him with a horse, and with one acting as a guide, he rode into the air service camp just as the boys were returning from another fruitless day of searching for him.

Major Pratt said that Pearson after landing, walked away from the river to the south under the impression that he was still in the United States. The fact that he walked in a circle was what brought him back to the river.

The plane was found intact late Thursday afternoon by fliers with the exception of the motor bearings being frozen, about five miles from the Rio Grande on the Mexican side.
It will be returned to Pearson's station just as soon as arrangements can be made with the Mexican government or its removal.

Pearson has returned to his station at Douglas, Ariz.

FARMERS ANNOUNCE PLAN OF MARKETING

Kansas City, Feb. 18.—The farmers' grain marketing committee of 17, appointed six months ago by the American Farm Bureau Federation to devise cheaper marketing methods, last night announced that it had voted to recommend formation of a Non-Stock, Non-Profit Corporation to be known as the National Sales Agency, which would handle the marketing of grain after it leaves the producer.

The organization would be co-operative with growers or grain taking membership. The members would effect an agreement with local co-operative elevators or a local grain growers' association to deliver the grain either on the basis of a sales contract, or a pooling contract. The local elevator or grain growers' association would contract with the National Sales Agency to handle the grain.

Await Return of Fordney With Views of Harding

Chairman Of House Ways and Means Committee Confers With President-elect On Plans for Revision of Tariff Laws.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Republican leaders of congress are marking time today pending the return of Rep. Joseph W. Fordney, Republican of Michigan, chairman of the house way and means committee from his conference with President-elect Harding at St.
Augustine. Tentative plans for revision of the tariff and tax laws by the next congress are being held in abeyance until Fordney has reported Mr.
Harding's views as to what should be done regarding them.

All the Republican leaders do not share Fordney's opinion that the tariff should be disposed of first and proposed changes in the tax system taken up next.

There is also a difference of opinion among them as to whether a sales tax should be substituted for the excess profits tax. Senator Penrose, Republican of Pennsylvania, who as chairman of the Senate finance committee, occupies the same position toward the senate as Fordney does toward the house, has been generally opposed to a sales tax such as Canada is reported to be finding highly successful as a revenue raiser.

Fordney hopes to obtain Mr. Harding's approval of his plan to have congress by resolution make the provisions of the new tariff bill effective immediately upon its being reported to the house by the ways and means committee and pending the adoption, amendment or rejection of those provisions by the senate and house. He would have those provision finally enforced into law made retroactive from the time of their enactment to the time of their being reported or adoped. In this way he would prevent the country from being flooded with imports between the time the bill is reported and the time the duties finally provided by it are enforced.

Justice Hughes has not seen the president elect since the latter's return from Panama early in December.
Since their meeting in Marion the Harding cabinet has assumed a definite form and there have been many shifts in the international situation as the new administration will have to deal with them.

It is understood a wide range of subjects will be taken up in the discussion by the president elect and his secretary of state. It is probable that the foreign situation will be thoroughly gone into and in addition Mr.
Hughes advice will be sought concerning the inaugural address and the few cabinet portfolios not yet tentatively filled.

The refusal of Gov. Frank O. Low-den of Illinois to be considered for any office in the Harding administration has created still more uncertainty in the naval, commerce and labor posts.
It has also increased the chances of seeing representatives in the cabinet, according to those about the president elect.

The political advisers of Mr. Harding are insistently urging that for purely political reasons he recognize the breaking of the solid south by awarding a cabinet post to a southern man, but so far as can be learned here the president elect has made no decision yet.

St. Augustine, Feb. 18.—Charles M.
Hughes will arrive in St. Augustine late today for what probably will be a final conference with president elect Harding before he becomes a member of his official family two weeks hence.

The above photo of Enrico Caruso, world famous tenor, with his wife and infant daughter, Gloria, was taken just before he suffered his breakdown, while he was en route in his special car to appear at a concert. His wife was Miss Dorothy Park Benjamin. The inset is of Enrico Jr., fifteen, Caruso's son by a former marriage.

WILL NOT ATTEMPT TO BRING EX-KAISER TO TRIAL ENGLISH PREMIER INTIMATES

Lloyd George Flings Caustic Answer To Member Of Parliament Who Criticised Him—Says One Nation Cannot Pay For War.

London, Feb. 18.—It is impossible for any one nation to pay the whole cost of the war, Premier Lloyd George declared today in a reply to a sensational statement issued by Horatio Bottomley, M. P. Mr. Bottomley had demanded the dissolution of parliament and the immediate trial of the ex-kaiser.

Premier Lloyd George ridiculed Mr. Bottomley's declarations and challenged him to collect the indemnity from Germany.

"If Mr. Bottomley should collect the German indemnity I suppose he would bring us shiploads full of worthless marks," said the premier.
"If you and the rest of the opponents of the government's policy press for the impossible you will get nothing.
It is impossible for any nation to pay the cost of the war, which we put at 50,000,000,000 marks. Had Germany had her share she could not have paid the bill in full."

Premier Lloyd George declared that the trials of "German war criminals" would be pressed to the very end.

"It is strongly to be suspected that Germany will send delegates to the London conference next month in ragged clothes," continued the premier.

The premier said that England and France were agreed that it was not worth while to risk war with Holland to attempt to bring force to get the ex-kaiser for trial.

(Note: The premier's declaration about the ex-kaiser's trial is accepted as confirmation of the story circulated by the International News Service that no further effort will be made to bring members of the Hohenzollern family to trial for their alleged war crimes.)

In his statement attacking the premier's German policy, Mr. Bottomley said that "Wilhelmstrasse is treating everything with cautious indifference."

President-elect Harding accepted the president's offer to provide an inaugural luncheon but stated he did not wish it to be an elaborate affair and desired only the members of his immediate family present.

The president-elect stated that he was happy to note that the president has sufficiently recovered his health to be able to attend the theatres.

HARDWARE MEETING ENDS ON FRIDAY

Columbus, Feb. 18.—Charles F.
Hauck, Springfield, was elected president of the Ohio Hardware Association, succeeding Albert Zettler, Columbus, it was announced at the Des-hler Hotel, where the twenty-seventh annual convention is being held.

James B. Carson, Dayton, was elected to his tenth term as secretary and John F. Baker, Dayton, re-elected treasurer. Directors elected were: F.
M. Potter, Cleveland, Robert W. Mc-Vay, Bellaire, A. R. Shipley, Rich-wood, William Griner Toledo, F. A.
Walther, Bucyrus, R. F. Pawcett, Salem, Miles J. Watson, Oberlin, Fred Neile, Zanesville, C. C. Heller, Beaver Dam and Charles W. Lammer, Madisonville.

A business session this morning, including a "question box" conducted by Miles J. Watson, president of the Lorain County Hardware Club, on "Group Meetings and What They Do for Members," concluded the convention.

ROTARY DELEGATES NAMED

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 18.—Rev.
Benjamin Jay Bush, Frank B. Jones, Prof. R. E. Monroe, C. L. Ryley and Simon Wolf, were named to be delegates from Lexington to the International Convention of Rotary Clubs at Edinburgh, Scotland, June 13 to 17.

Part, Feb. 18.—An unconfirmed report was current here today that the American forces of occupation on the Rhine may soon be withdrawn.
The press prints a dispatch saying that the American representative on the reparations commission has been recalled.

JURY ACQUITS CLEVELAND MAN; VERDICT READ

Jury Reaches Agreement and Delivers Finding at 11:20 Friday

CHARGE WAS MURDER

Man Freed at Second Trial Of Charge Of Killing Friend.

Cleveland, Feb. 18.—William H. Mc-Gannon, chief justice of the Cleveland municipal court, again walks the streets of Cleveland a free man. A jury of nine men and three women returned a verdict declaring him not guilty of the murder of his friend Harold C. Kagy, at 11:20 this morning. The verdict was ready a few minutes before, but neither judge nor defendant was available. Hurriedly the telephones were used, while Judge Maurice Berner, who presided at the first McGannon trial, which resulted in a disagreement after 48 hours of deliberation, was called to receive the verdict in place of Judge Homer G.
Powell, who was ill at his home.

The defendant, who was at the home of his brother, Dr. A. C. McGan-non on the west side having given up hope of an early verdict, was hurriedly summoned by his counsel. The jurors carrying him to receive the verdict of his peers probably broke a few regulations regarding speed in its trip to the court house.

Just before 11:20 the jury filed into the court room.

"Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon a verdict?" asked Judge Berner after the time honored formula.

"We have," replied the former and
the clerk read:

"We, the jury, find the defendant not guilty."

Scarcely had the reading been finished and the customary procedure been complied with, when Judge Mc-Gannon warmly grasped the hands of the twelve in turn, thanking each for the judgement rendered.

Friends of the accused jurist, by the score crowded around him to congratulate him upon the result. The court room for a few moments was turned into a reception room for the late prisoner.

There are still pending charges of unprofessional conduct before the bar association. Whether these will now be pressed or dropped was undecided late today.

The jury deliberated eight hours and 40 minutes.

DR. SCULLEN NAMED TO SUCCEED BISHOP

Cleveland, Feb. 18.—Rev. Dr. William A. Scullen has been named administrator of the Cleveland Catholic Diocese, pending the appointment of a successor to Bishop John P. Farrelly, it was announced by the diocesan board of consultors.

Pontifical high mass of requiem for Bishop Farrelly was celebrated by Archbishop Henry Moeller of Cincinnati. Right Rev. John B. Morris, bishop of Little Rock, Ark., preached the funeral sermon.

Solemnity, deepened by the ancient ceremonies of the Catholic church, marked every part of the service,
which opened by the chanting of 300 priests and seminarians of the office of the dead, and closed with the removal of the body from its place of honor in the cathedral sanctuary of crypt under the altar.

WHISKEY MAY BE TAKEN TO DWELLINGS

Washington, Feb. 18.—Whiskey
now held in storage may be transported by the owners to their private dwellings under new regulations issued by the internal revenue bureau today. The rules are made to conform to a recent supreme court decision, holding that liquors can be removed and transported if the liquors were legally acquired before prohibition went into effect.

SEE COLD WEATHER NEXT WEEK

Washington, Feb. 18.—The weather bureau issued a special bulletin today predicting that the coldest weather of the winter will be experienced east of the Rocky Mountains during the next week.

"The cold weather will extend southward over the gulf of Mexico and South Atlantic states, carrying freezing temperature to the coast
the first part of the coming week,"
the bulletin stated.

WITNESS DECLARES HATFIELD GUILTY

Mingo County Courthouse, Williamson, W. Va., Feb. 18.—"Sid Hatfield told me just after the shooting that he had killed three of the Baldwin-Felts men," testified Squire Harry Staten of Matewan in the Felts murder trial today.

"Did he say which ones?" asked Captain S. B. Avis, examining for the state.

"He said he had killed Albert Felts, Lee Felts and C. B. Cunnham."

Shortly after the "battle of Matewan," Sid Hatfield kicked one of the bodies lying in the street, Bessie Hamilton swore on the witness stand today. She also testified she saw Hatfield and Reece Chambers search two bodies. She stuck to her kicking story under cross examination by J. J. Conniff, but admitted she did not see the two defendants put their hands in the pockets of the dead men.

Of Interest to the Farmer

OVER 6,000 ATTEND FARMERS' MEETING

With over 6,000 farmers registered attendance records were once more broken during the Farmers' Week program at the Ohio State University held from January 31 to February 4. The attendance this year was over 400 more than last year, when 5,691 persons were registered. Over 1,100 more farmers attended this year than last, however. Last year 360 boys and girls winning free trips to Farmers' Week and 350 students remaining between semesters for the event were registered.

A special program was arranged for the youngsters last fall and few students were registered this year. In 1918 when the first program was given 140 persons were registered; 1914, 770; 1915, 1,457; 1916, 2,892; 1917, 4,046; 1918, 2,607; 1919, 4,803; 1920, 5,691.

COLD CARRIED OUT OF SOIL BY TILE

The drainage is an important means of warming the soil in the spring and thus making it fit for use, say experienced farmers.

F. L. Allen of Trumbull County reports having taken the temperature of rain water many times as it fell and then again as it emerged from the drain tile. The drainage water was 20 degrees Fahrenheit colder than the original rain water.

At this rate, specialists say that each inch of rainfall in the spring might be expected to raise the average temperature of the top 30 inches of soil 2.8 degrees Fahrenheit. The greater part of this heat would be left in the upper areas of the soil, thus raising its temperature considerably more than the average of 2.5 degrees.

Mr. Allen also points out that snow in the spring melts more rapidly on drained than undrained land. This he believes is due to the warmer temperature of the tiled soil.

WOULD LEGALIZE SUNDAY SHOWING OF FILMS IN OHIO

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—Legalizing Sunday showing of motion pictures, with a clause providing for a referendum, is embodied in a bill introduced in the House by representative Gilbert Taylor, of Norwalk, a dry leader in the Assembly. The bill prohibits motion pictures during the morning church hours and provides for a fine and imprisonment for the violation of this provision.

The bill, which is not what the picture industry wanted, is said to be a big concession on the part of the industry.

There is much more sentiment in the Legislature for the Taylor bill than has been manifested in previous sessions. The main reason for this is said to be the fact that the unemployment and general unrest in this country is turning to the motion picture house to aid in quieting this condition.

Another reason for the Taylor bill is that the Sunday motion picture law now on the statutes is not being enforced in more than two thirds of the communities in the state. It is urged that these communities are favored.

The referendum feature of the bill provides that any community may bar the Sunday motion picture, with the majority of the voters favoring a closed Sunday.

There is a voluntary movement among members of the picture theatre organization for closer censorship of pictures and for better productions.

With the resignation of E. P. Riddle, Republican member of the Board of Administration and the expiration of the term of Beecher W. Waltemire, Republican member of the State Utilities Commission, there are two additional appointments due this week. Riddle is going to Florida and Waltemire has opened a law office in Columbus, announcing that he will devote his time to the utility practice.

In political circles it is regarded as almost certain that E. A. Tinker, Chillicothe lawyer and former member of the House, will succeed Waltemire, appointed by Governor Willis six years ago, did not seek reappointment.

There is also a prohibition commissioner to be appointed, probably this week. Joseph A. Biard, of Bowling Green, has the backing of former State Chairman Charles S. Hatfield and Walter Brown for the job. George Stoughton, of Westerville, secretary of the Industrial Commission under Willis, is a candidate.

There is beginning to be keen competition for federal jobs as the inauguration ceremonies draw near. Newton M. Miller, who managed the re-primar campaign for Senator Willis is spoken of as the successor of Beriah E. Williamson as internal revenue collector at Columbus and there is sharp competition between General R. V. McMaken and Attorney Lott, for the Toledo assignment.

There is some rumor to the effect that the reorganization program for state departments may go over for a time until the tax bill and the appropriation measures are out of the way. There is a disposition on the part of both Governor Davis and the members of the Legislature to make the reorganization measure a thorough one and there are many angles to be considered in the final draft of the bill. No aid is being given this program from Democratic sources.

FORMER TENOR DEAD
San Bernardino, Cal., Feb. 18.—The death of Pietro Buzzi, 58 years old, formerly Italian operatic tenor, was announced at the State Hospital, near there. His best-known role was that of Don Jose in "Carmen."

With The Women of Today

American women are soon to have the pleasure of a visit from one of the foremost women scientists of the world. She is Mme Marie Curie, who co-discovered with her late husband that new element which is so valuable, radium. It is announced that she plans to visit this country very soon. Her visit will be the result of an invitation of Mrs. William Brown Maloney, editor of the Delineator.

While in this country Mrs. Curie will receive one gram of radium as the gift of prominent American women. She will bring her young daughter with her. The girl is also a noted scientist although only 20 years old.

For the second successive year the women students at the University of Wisconsin have averaged

Fordson

TRADE MARK

FOR thirty-five years Henry Ford, a farmer's boy, has been working on the problem of a successful tractor for the farm, and for the past fourteen years has devoted much time and a vast amount of money to the development of the present Fordson Tractor. Today that Tractor is in use on nearly 200,000 farms and if you have any doubt as to the satisfaction it gives to those who are using it, call in and get the booklet, just issued by the Ford Motor Company, and called "The Fordson at Work" and read the testimony which is there given by the multitude of owners of Fordson Tractors. No evidence can be more conclusive than that of the man who actually knows by personal experience and this is the line of testimony carried in this little booklet. There is no cost for this booklet. If you cannot call for it, write, drop us a postal, and we will mail it to you without charge. It is so valuable you ought to have it because it is the open door through which the farmer will pass from the hard working drudge to the comparative comfort of the manufacturer. The Fordson makes it possible for the farmer to plan and direct, while the machine will do the work. It presents the widest latitude for the farmer to exercise his brain power and plan how he can get the most from the soil, knowing that the Tractor will do the hard work, do it better, do it quicker, and therefore do it more profitably. This means not alone in the cultivation of the soil, in the harvesting of the crops, but in a hundred and one different demands that are made for labor, cutting of ensilage and the filling of the silo; cutting of wood; operation of the washing machine; in the lighting of the house with electricity; supplying the house with running water; bringing to the farmer's wife and daughters the conveniences of the city, relieving them of much of the hard, unpleasant part of housework.

AUTONECESSITY COMPANY LEASES SITE ON DETROIT

The Xenia Auto Necessity Company operated by Carl Ervin and Robert Collins, at present located in the Manhattan building, on the West Market street side, has leased the room in the Foust building, formerly the Gallagher building on South Detroit street, which was formerly occupied by the Higgins & Phillips clothing store, and will move into the new location Monday.

The room is now being remodelled for the occupancy of the company, which sells automobile parts and accessories, tires and does vulcanizing. The firm was started last summer and has gradually expanded since. With the announcement of the new location, the firm is also giving out the fact that it has leased the empty lot owned by Ed. S. Foust, next to a filling station there. The front of the lot is at present occupied by a sign advertising the proposed mausoleum, and the filling station project will not go through until this sign is abandoned.

NEW METHODS TO SEND PHOTOS

London, Feb. 18.—M. Hermos P. Larsen, a Norwegian engineer, has invented a new and simpler method for photographing pictures and signatures, which he claims will revolutionize telegraphy.

ESTIMATE LOSS OF FARM BUILDINGS CLOSE TO $11,000

The estimate of the loss of the fire that destroyed the contents of the corn crib and barn of the Earl McClellan farm on the Upper Bellbrook pike, early Thursday morning, was placed by Mr. McClellan Friday at $11,000.

The entire contents, including 2,700 bushels of corn, the stock of farm machinery and all the cattle excepting five horses and a few pigs were a total loss. The barn which was entirely destroyed was partially covered by insurance, amounting to $2500.

The fire which was discovered at 5 o'clock, Thursday morning was caused by crossed electric wiring in the barn. The ruins were reported still smouldering early Friday afternoon.

EXPECT TO CONCLUDE CASES ON FRIDAY

It is expected that the nineteen cases seeking injunction against collection of the special assessments levied by the city for street improvements originally assigned will be concluded Friday afternoon.

Nineteen of the 29 cases assigned were set by Judge R. L. Gowdy to be heard Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week by Judge Clevenger of Wilmington, but the cases were not finished in the allotted time, hanging over until Friday morning.

MANY CHURCHES WILL HOLD SERVICES OF MISSIONARY NATURE

Churches in Southern Ohio will in many cases, hold special services Sunday as a preliminary to a series of missionary conferences which will take place next week and which will form a part of a most comprehensive movement. Delegations from Baptist churches will meet at Marietta, Zanesville and Springfield during the week for two-days sessions which are but units in a nation wide series and which are of utmost importance. Similar meetings are being held in the 35 Northern States, and in these states the 10,666 churches comprising the Northern Baptist Convention are co-operating.

Missionaries from Baptist Mission stations in Africa, Assam, Burma, South India, East and West China and the Philippines are being called from furloughs, in this country to take part. Leaders in the denomination are laying aside other duties to share in the conferences.

Arrangements for the Ohio meetings have been under the direction of Rev. Charles E. Stanton, State Director of Promotion assisted by leading pastors and laymen. The objective of the meetings is a renewal of the missionary spirit in the denomination, and the effort will be continued in leading centers until March 20th.

Speakers in the team which will visit Ohio will include Dr. P. J. H. Lerrigo, M. D., candidate secretary of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, formerly a missionary himself, who now has the important task of seeing that the outgoing missionaries are in the best of physical condition as well as with the proper religious training. Another will be Rev. Braxton C. Case, head of the Baptist Agricultural School at Pyramana, Burma, a third Rev. Bruce Kinney, D. D., of Denver Col., a native of Ohio, who has made a name as an author, missionary executive and pastor, Miss Harriet Smith of Ningpo, China, and Mrs. F. S. Osgood of Chicago, of the Board of Managers of the Woman's American Baptist Home Mission Society, will represent the women on the team. The dates of the conferences will be as follows: Monday and Tuesday at Marietta; Wednesday and Thursday at Zanesville, Friday and Saturday at Springfield.

CINCINNATI WOMAN SUFFERED 15 YEARS

"I Will Always Feel Grateful To Tanlac," Says Mrs. Huffman After Health Is Restored—Says It Added Years To Her Life.

"Tanlac overcame my troubles that had kept me in wretched health for fifteen long years," said Mrs. B. Huffman, 1201 Harrison Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.

"My stomach had been giving me trouble all these years," continued Mrs. Huffman, "and I seemed to be getting worse all the time. I never cared for anything to eat, and the little I forced down soured on my stomach and caused gas to form and I would bloat badly."

"Sometimes I could hardly get my breath and my heart would feel like it was going to stop beating, and then at other times it would beat so fast I would become frightened. My nerves were so upset that I could never get a good night's sleep."

MISSING MAN IS FINALLY LOCATED

Joseph Malone, 43, formerly of this city, who was reported to Cincinnati authorities as missing since Monday, was reported located in the General Hospital Cincinnati, late Wednesday, according to the Cincinnati Times Star.

The missing man's sister, Mrs. John Teggs, of Latonia, Ky., had asked the police of Cincinnati and Covington, to search for her brother, who was a passenger train conductor on the Pennsylvania railroad. It was thought that he might be suffering from amnesia and had possibly fallen into the hands of thieves.

Malone left her home Saturday to call on the trainmaster at the railroad station in Cincinnati and did not reach there and the sister notified authorities.

As a result of a publication in the Times Star the man was identified at the General Hospital Wednesday. Malone became ill at Sixth and Walnut streets early Monday morning and was removed to the hospital. When he recovered he was able to give his name and that of his wife Florence Malone, who lives in the Moreland apartments in this city. Malone has been suffering from nervous trouble.

APPROPRIATION FOR ROADS IS DEFEATED

Washington, Feb. 18.—Provision for $100,000,000 for federal aid to the states road building, proposed by Senator Swanson, Democrat of Virginia, as an amendment to the pending agriculture appropriation bill was defeated in the senate today.

The vote on a motion to suspend the rules to consider the appropriation was 42 for, 33 against. A two thirds vote is required for a suspension of senate rules the motion being lost by eight votes.

CARUSO BETTER.

New York, Feb. 18.—"Mr. Caruso had a good night and is distinctly improved this morning," said the statement issued by the five doctors attending the noted singer at noon today.

"The rumors of operations done or to be done are based on false information."

1901 FARE $14;
1921 FARE $78

The presidential inauguration marked with any unusual ceremony March 4th, 1921, will not be monies, indeed it is being stated that they will be the most simple since the days of Lincoln, but whether the ceremony count or not, one is being made to pay real thing, than in the old days.

Custom and expense have changed to the opposite extremes in the space of twenty years. When loyal Republicans became interested in the coming McKinley inauguration in 1901 and inquired into the railroad fare to Washington, they found it could be accomplished for the astounding sum of $14 a round trip.

Those who wish to see Warren G. Harding take the chair, March 4th, have found that the fare from Cincinnati to Washington, including Pullman berths breakfasts and all the modern comforts has risen in the space of 20 years to $78.

SETTLE CASE OUT OF COURT FRIDAY

The suit of Henry Devilbliss against Grover Brickie, was settled Friday out of court, by payment of the judgement of $187.35 asked for by the plaintiff as due on a promissory note.

The note was executed January 9, 1920, for $367 at six per cent, payable July 9, 1920. Credits had lessened the amount to $187.35 balance due on the note, instead of $687.35 as stated.

FIRST STEP TOWARD U. S. LINEN INDUSTRY.

A new industry for the United States, the manufacture of linen and fine linen products, is to be centered about Philadelphia within the next few years under the plans of a group of local capitalists and textile men.

Upon the use of a newly developed method of rotting the fiber flax depends the success of the project, which its backers expect will make Philadelphia the "Belfast of America" and the Delaware-Maryland-Virginia peninsula one of the important flax-growing regions in the world.

The method, successfully demonstrated last fall in an experimental plant built by the Chesapeake Flax and Linen Corporation, will be given its first extensive application this year in a $500,000 mill the company is to erect at Smyrna, Del. Other factories will be built, officials of the concern say, as rapidly as the demand and the increasing size of the fiber flax crops make necessary.

Although more than 2,000,000 acres of flax are grown annually in the United States, in Kentucky, Nebraska and North Dakota, practically the entire product is converted into linseed oil and cattle feed. Though flax for linen was grown in some quantity in the United States in its earlier history, most of the linen used here has always been imported. Ireland has supplied the bulk of it.

The difficulty in preparing the fiber for linen and the high cost here in treating it by the process used for centuries past have been the chief barriers in the past to the successful development of a linen industry in this country.

"By a process partly mechanical and partly chemical, or 'synthetic,' there can be accomplished in two hours what it has taken weeks and months to do in the past."

Tests show but little difference in the quality of the Delaware-grown, fibre treated by this new method and that produced in Ireland, leaders in the new company say.

CANCER, X-RAY AND CAUTION.

The achievements of modern surgery are so marvelous and the protection afforded the public by preventive medicine so thoroughgoing that most people are disposed to believe anything is possible with the scientific medical or surgical specialist. This being the case it is only common-sense prudence that would suggest certain caution, on the part of the public, in the issue raised by the use of X-rays in the treatment of cancer.

So baffling a disease as cancer, whose cause and origin and progress present so much of mystery in the individual cases, so terrifies the imagination that it is but natural that forlorn and afflicted humanity is disposed to be unduly optimistic when any change in the method of treatment is announced that indicates the possibility of alleviating or of checking the disease. The consequence is that there is too much expected of any of the known treatments practiced by the greater pathologists. Those who hope against hope inevitably make too much of discoveries that, however valuable they may be, are by no means that panacea, that absolutely sure cancer cure-all, that the sufferers, their friends and their relatives desire.

No greater boon could be given to modern civilization than the announcement that cancer could not only be prevented, but be cured. But painstaking investigators of cancer are not given over to unchecked optimism.

Speaking as one who knows the danger of X-ray, we say go cautiously, gentlemen. We have the evidence that in the use of this subtle substance, the proposed remedy is often worse than the disease. Better to suffer the ills you know about, than run the risk of others still more deadly, which the X-ray has often proved to be.

We all know of the cases of learned physicians who have sacrificed their lives in experimenting with X-ray on others. Other lives they may have been able to save, but in the end could not save their own. And worse yet, nobody else could counteract the deadly effect of the X-ray burn, and the heroic experimenter had to die.

So if you or your friends are victims of that dreaded disease cancer, it is just as well to give serious consideration before intrusting your lives to X-ray, which may prove worse than the disease itself.

ZION OVERSEER ASSERTS RIVERS WOULD SPILL IF PLANET TURNED OVER.

Columbus was all wrong. The earth is flat. The moon does not reflect the rays of the sun. The moon has nothing at all to do with the tides. The sun is only 3000 miles away; it is only thirty-two miles in diameter. The earth does not rotate. Instead, the sun travels around the earth. You don't believe it? Well, it's true, because Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion, says so. What's more, he offered $1000 to any astronomer or scientist who can prove him wrong.

Voliva, it seems, has been conducting a bit of astronomical research on his own hook. The best proof, he says, that the world doesn't rotate is found in the fact the waters in the rivers, lakes and seas are still with us. He claims that if the earth did turn upside down every twenty-four hours all the water would spill out.

HAVE GOOD APPETITE FEEL FULL OF PEP SINCE TAKING EARLE'S HYPO-COD HE SAYS

Most everything he ate before would cause him to have indigestion

READ STATEMENT BELOW

"I suffered from a general rundown system, had a very poor appetite, and it seemed like most everything I ate would hurt my stomach so I bought Hypo-Cod after seeing it advertised and am feeling fine now, have a good appetite, eat anything, and sure feel full of pep. I don't see how anyone can help being helped by Hypo-Cod—I am not a doctor—but I know that everything that is in this tonic is good. It has helped me and I have recommended it to my dad as he needs a good tonic," declared Mr. M.

M. Sarver, of Railway Y. M. C. A., Columbus, Ohio.

It's a grand and glorious feeling to tumble out of bed after a real night's sleep—with a good appetite—feel like working all day—come home nights feeling like a boy again. When your system is in good shape old mother nature throws off sickness, coughs, colds and other troubles like water off a duck's back. Drop in at the drug store tonight on your way home and get a bottle or two of the genuine Earle's Hypo-Cod, in the famous orange colored carton, with formula printed on it, that druggists, chemists and experts assert is good. You'll be delighted.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by all good druggists and the leading druggists in all nearby towns.

BUT WATCH OUT WHEN THE WHISTLE BLOWS FOR DINNER

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

L. F. Clevenger is planning to leave soon for Buffalo, New York and see what the prospect is for business at the Pan-American Exposition. Mr. Clevenger expects to remain there the coming summer.

The damage to the Schmidt ice houses by fire some time ago is being rapidly repaired. The large double house is now about as good as ever and the other house will be rebuilt as soon as possible.

The indications are that Xenia will be well represented at the inauguration of William

McKinley at Washington, March 4th, a great many inquiries being made at the Pan Handle concerning the rates and terms which are being offered by the railroad to excursionists. The rate from Xenia to Washington and return will be $14 being one fare for the round trip.

Mr. Ed Keyes, manager of the Western Union has been solicited to become a candidate for councilman for the Fifth ward and will make the race. Ed has been down the line before and will understand how to make a good race.

ANKLE MASSAGE

Slim ankles, like slender hands, are considered a sign of gentility and are the desire of every woman. Most people possess slim ankles; those who do not are usually too stout all over.

A great many of my readers write to me and ask whether massage will make thick ankles slender. It will to a certain extent. In any case, it is worthy trying, if you are one of the few people whose ankles are too thick for beauty.

But if your ankles are too thick, my first bit of advice would be to wear high shoes all the time, particularly laced shoes, which can always be drawn snugly about the ankles. Whether it is the snugness of the lacing or the friction of the shoe, is not known, but the result always is that the ankles grow slender when high shoes are constantly worn.

As for the massage, there is no particular method that is more valuable than any other method. If you will hold your hands at each side of the ankles and massage vigorously using the familiar circular motion that you use for facial massage you will have as good success as experts who claim to make ankles thin.

You can be as vigorous as you wish in massaging the ankles. You will also have to be patient, for it takes a long time to see results. Of course if you are too stout, you will reduce your ankles when you reduce your entire body.

PUBLISHER'S RESPONSIBILITY

Much demoralizing reading is printed on the plea that "the public wants it." A mother might as exuberantly give her child the glistening arsenic for which it cries. The publisher bears a responsibility to society like that of the preacher or the teacher. This, at any rate, is the view of the Publishers of the Youth's Companion. From its first issue to the present it has been a constant force for character building. And with all that it has been so wisely edited that no publication exists of more varied charm, more inexhaustible and refreshing sources of interest.

The 52 issues of the coming year will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Only $2.50 for an amount of reading equal to thirty-five volumes of fiction, humor, etc.

DAYS OF STRESS.

Through weary years of war we wrought, our hearts oppress'd by doubt and care, for every dismal morning brought some tale of bloodshed and despair, while blood drenched armies toiled and fought the endless battles "over there." All through the war we saved and pinched, tried self denial till it hurt, that Kaiser Wilhelm might be cinched and dumped, defeated, in the dirt; we thought that fellow should be lynched who bought himself a Sunday shirt. And when the guns at last were stilled, and placed in soak were sword and lance, and warriors no longer drilled across the sodden fields of France, the bosoms of the boys were filled with thoughts of pomp and circumstance. For we had lived like hermits gray, and hermits have a beastly time; they live on turnips, peas and hay, and think a sirloin steak a crime, and so we rose and threw away the franc, the kopeck and the dime. And now this later phase is spent, and sanity resumes her throne, and every wise and thoughtful gent reveres the doubloon and the bone, and to the bank he takes a cent, to start a bundle of his own. Released from wartime's doubt and dread, and having lived reaction down, oh, there are better days ahead for every delegate in town; so let us walk with sprightly tread, and spring the smile and dump the frown.

NO CLEWS DEVELOP INTO ROBBERY OF TOLEDO POST OFFICE

Toledo, O., Feb. 18—There is absolutely no clew to the identity or whereabouts of the bandits who early yesterday morning held up employees of the government at the postoffice here and escaped with eleven sacks of mail, six of which contained registered mail. The exact amount of the loot has not yet been ascertained, but is believed to have been between $300,000 and $400,000. The thieves overlooked one sack of registered mail from New York containing $150,000 in currency consigned to a Toledo bank. A high priced hat purchased in Detroit was found in an automobile which is believed to have been abandoned by the bandits.

COUNTY AUTO CLUB DECIDES AGAINST BILL AT MEETING

Committee members of the Greene County Automobile Club expressed themselves as being decidedly against the bill now pending in the House to license all drivers of automobiles, at a luncheon and smoker held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Thursday evening.

A request for support of the bill was made by the Cleveland Safety Council, but while members of the local organization expressed themselves as being favorable to the general plan, features of the bill that were objectionable led to the organization taking action condemning it. Secretary F. J. Slackford was instructed to write letters to the State Senator in this district and to the Greene County Representative asking them to vote against the bill. The placing of road signs and the routing of principal highways was taken up at the meeting, and Dr. A. C. Messenger, president of the Club, appointed a committee to take care of this phase of the club's work. The committee consists of T. H. Zell, chairman, S. M. McKay, and W. J. Davis. A plan of routing was suggested by Secretary Slackford, whereby colors would be used to identify the main highways, leading from this city, and the plan was looked upon favorably by the members present.

Frank Fisher was appointed chairman of a committee consisting of Theophil White, Paul Petz and Henry Binder to see the Greene County Commissioners in regard to placing of a standing reward for the arrest of auto thieves and the recovery of stolen cars, such as the practice in many counties.

A joint automobile picnic of the Greene County Clubs, to be held next summer was tentatively discussed although action will be taken later. Jacob Kany, who served the luncheon of sandwiches and coffee at the Thursday night meeting was elected as honorary member of the club at the meeting.

DOUBLE BILL WILL BE OFFERED FRIDAY

In order to supply the basketball fans of this city with a real attraction when Central High mixes it with Circleville High at the Rink Friday night, St. Brigids High School team has been booked for a conflict with the Central High second team.

The double bill will start at seven o'clock with Parochial lads and the Public school quintet, getting together in the opening engagement. The final affair should prove more than interesting. Last year, the blue and white five, were badly defeated by the Circle lads in their own halfwick, and they are out to avenge this defeat when the teams get together here Friday.

CARUSO'S CONDITION REPORTED FAVORABLE

New York, Feb. 18.—The condition of Enrico Caruso, the famous Italian tenor, who is critically ill in his apartment at the Hotel Vanderbilt, continues favorable, it was announced early today.

"Mr. Caruso is holding the improvement that he showed," Dr. F. J. Murray, house physician at the Vanderbilt said shortly before 8 o'clock. Earlier in the morning, Bruno Zirato, the singer's secretary, had informed newspaper men that the patient was resting comfortably and continued to show the improvement that marked his condition yesterday. Zirato stated that while Caruso is still in a critical condition strong hopes are held for his recovery.

MAY RETURN POST OFFICE JOBS TO OLD SYSTEM IS REPORT

Postoffice jobs, at present tied up by civil service according to the plan instituted by President Wilson some time ago, are to be taken out, dusted off and placed in the show case with the handsomely engraved label, "political plums," by President-elect Warren G. Harding.

All of this means, that good and staunch Republican workers will again have opportunity to pluck one of these much-sought-after jobs as the prize and award for good work nobly done. The announcement of the cutting loose of the 11,536 postoffice jobs now tied up under the civil service, marks the return to the old system of "government by political parties," to which Mr. Harding has so often expressed adherence.

Under the change to the old system, as formerly, the Republican Congressmen will have the right to endorsements, with the approval, it is thought, of the Republican committee of the particular county named. On this endorsement the presidential appointment will be based, as in the past. The one exception to the rule of Congressional endorsement is that every Republican United States Senator will have the right to name the Postmaster in the city in which he lives, whether the Congressional district in which the office is located is represented in the lower branch of Congress or not.

In this state, about 450 presidential postoffice appointments will be released from civil service when President-elect Harding revokes the executive order that made that plan a law. It is not the intention, however, to oust Democratic postmasters, whose appointments have already been confirmed for fixed terms, provided, of course, their service is not objectionable, but when their terms expire their successors will be named on political endorsements. Under this branch of the rules, Postmaster H. E. Rice will continue in office here, as his appointment was confirmed last summer, and there will likely be no discussion on over the incumbency of the local office. Xenia is one of 148 offices in Ohio that pays a salary greater than $2,000 a year.

ADVERTISING PAYS FOR ITSELF; AN OLD QUESTION ANSWERED

Who pays for the advertising? That was an odd conundrum when Heck was a pup and as you no doubt know Heck is a very old dog now.

But then, as now, the conundrum had an answer.

And the answer is: Advertising pays for itself.

Which is to say that neither the consumer nor the dealer pays for the advertising in either higher prices or lowered quality.

There's an illustration which has been going the rounds for a long while now. It is worth repeating here.

X and Z are competitors in the manufacture of rubber nipples for babies' feeding bottles. Both produce 100,000 nipples a year neither advertises. The nipples cost each man 12 cents each to make and they are sold to the dealer for 14 cents. Thus each manufacturer makes a profit of 2 cents on each nipple he sells.

X determines to advertise and appropriates 1 cent on each nipple sold and presently finds his market expanded to a demand for 200,000 nipples a year.

When he gets to making 200,000 nipples a year he discovers that economies in manufacture thus made possible make his factory cost 10 cents. So that instead of making 2 cents on each nipple he's making 3 cents and selling twice as many.

So next year he increases his appropriation to 2 cents per nipple, sells 300,000 and gets his factory cost down to 8 cents—a profit of 4 cents—and the price still remains 14 cents to the dealer.

Thus encouraged the third year he increases his advertising appropriation to 4 cents for every nipple sold and enjoys a distribution of 500,000—and through further economies made possible through huge quantity production, he gets the factory cost down to a bed rock figure of 5 cents per nipple. Then he decides that his profit is too long and cuts the price to the trade to 12 cents, 2 cents lower than the beginning price—and makes 4 cents profit.

Meanwhile Z continues his enterprise without advertising and is found standing still—his factory cost continues at 12 cents, profit 2 cents and the dealer's price 14 cents.

X is clearly in the commanding position—he got there through advertising. He sells his nipple to the trade for 2 cents less, which affords the dealer an opportunity to make a longer profit—and you can guess whose nipple he buys and pushes.

Meanwhile X is making 4 cents against Z's 2 cents profit.

Thus the advertising paid for itself gave dealer and manufacturer a longer profit cost the consumer no more and probably in some cases less.

Good advertising pays in its own way every time.—Merchandising Advertising.

Jason Rodgers of the New York Globe has the following to add:

"The writer of the above article failed to drive home even a stronger argument by imagining Manufacturer X, having the conception of a Henry Ford.

"Suppose he had decided that a profit of 2 cents a nipple was all he wanted and had then let advertising do its utmost.

"If he secured a sale of 500,000 for a profit of 4 cents per nipple it is safe to say that through advertising and lower prices made possible through increased traffic he would

"They WORK while you sleep"

A Dependable Physic when Bilious, Headachy, Constipated and Upset.

10, 25, 50c—drugstores.

have sold 2,000,000 or more at 2 cents profit.

"Ford wanted $100 profit a car when he started out and got a market of over 1,000,000 a year and upwards of $100,000,000 profit.

"Advertising will sell increasing volume of goods at lower prices to the consumer, enormous profit to the advertiser, and pay for itself through increased traffic.

"Advertising will sell increasing volume of goods at unfairly high prices and is doing so every day for those of narrow vision regarding possibilities.

Is It Yours?

"BLOODY MARY"

February 18-1916.

Mary I, Queen of England, unpleasantly remembered as the "Bloody Mary," on account of the religious persecutions during her reign, was born at Greenwich, near London, in 1516. She was the first child of Henry VII and Catherine of Aragon, born early in their married life, long before Henry wanted to divorce his wife.

She was a most precious child, for we read of her entertaining visitors by playing music when she was four years old, and of being able to converse in Latin when she was nine. Unfortunately for her, she was used as a means for bargains and treaty making between England and other nations. She was proposed as the wife of the Dauphin of France, then as the wife of the Dauphin's father, King Francis I.

leyn, her very life was in danger because of the queen's hatred. She had been kept away for years from her own mother. Things were not much better during the brief reign of her young brother Edward VI., but on his death, she became queen and was able to do the one thing she wanted most, which was to make England Catholic.

The Protestants were cruelly persecuted, though it was probably not the queen's fault. Possibly the persecutions turned the feeling of the Country towards Protestantism. At all events, when the queen died, at the age of 42, the country turned with enthusiasm to her younger sister Elizabeth, who became a Protestant ruler.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Menth-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Menth-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It never fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Menth-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, lustrous hair can only be made by using a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it does, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture, you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of her ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it cures so naturally and evenly that body can tell it has been applied. It simply dampens a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and bears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

PIRATE HAUNTS NOW SHELTER RUM RUNNERS OF GRAND BANKS, FLORIDA

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 18.—On Scotch distilleries and Cuban cane fields. For the centre of the supply and the great distributing point for much of the liquor which is reaching the United States is among the cays of the Grand Banks. Fifty Miles From Florida Gun Cay is the rum runners' rendezvous. Port Royal, the old pirate capital, in its palmiest days never pried a more profitable trade in Spanish treasures snatched from sunken galleons. This liquor distributing centre is a coral island little more than a mile long and 100 yards wide. Less than fifty miles off the Florida coast, its low lying rocks would be undistinguishable to the landsman from any distance were it not for a squat red lighthouse which marks the channel in the reef. Approaching it from the Florida side, it seems deserted for its one house faces the broad Atlantic to the eastward. Soon, however, the tips of slender topmasts show above the green palms and underbrush, and as the queuing vessel swings past the narrow barrier in the reef with the surf breaking close to port and starboard, the rum runners' fleet is revealed at anchor.

Case Goods Galore

Seldom are there less than ten or a dozen craft swinging lazily with the tide. Schooners, sloops, yawls and motor craft there are, and sometimes a dingy steam tramp with smoke curling slowly from her funnel shows that shipments direct from the banks of Thames and Clyde are not lacking. The decks of many are piled high with cases bearing names now less familiar in the United States than of yore. The square bottles of Gordon, the well-remembered signature of Peter Dawson, the pinch bottles and five stars of Haig and Haig, show that the British still find a market across the Atlantic.

On some vessels, a carelessly flung scrap of dingy canvas veils the name and port on bow and counter, but others flaunt both with apparent unconcern. For they are peaceful freight carriers, ostensibly about their lawful occasions. There is small doubt, however, that no craft approaches unseen and the crews looting about the decks in apparent concern, as the visiting craft winds among the fleet are said never to move far from a rifle hidden from view behind a gunwale.

Like Pirate Crews And the crews, Captain Kidd or Blackbeard or old Captain Waiting never had crews who better looked their parts.

Caribs from the isles, negroes from Jamaica, mixed bloods and hard-faced white men from every port of the Caribbean, they loiter about the decks, bearded and unkempt. They wear the same white cotton trousers roiled to the knees, the same board hats and bandannas and the same vivid shirts as their brethren of the freebooting days. Only the gold earrings and the cutlasses and pistols in their belts are lacking. These have been replaced, it is said, by those who have dealt with them have been replaced by good gold coin and more modern weapons.

Activity at Night

If Gun Cay is peaceful and lazy during the day it is active at night, it is said. With dusk silent craft, with portholes covered and exhausts muffled, slide in the direction of the squat lighthouse. It is equally a breach of etiquette and equally dangerous to inquire too closely into the identity lights as it was to make searching inquiries of strangers in Leadville in the 60's.

Return with Gold

They come and go, none knows whence or whither. But they bring good gold with them and take good Scotch away. Sooner or later their cargoes are sold by stealth in ports from Baltimore to Galveston. Florida alone has 1,200 miles of coast line with hidden harbors galore. And there are less than a score of prohibition enforcement officers to watch this coast.

If Gun Cay is the wholesale centre of the business of the Bahama Banks, Bemini is the social capital. It also is a beautiful tropical island less than forty-five miles from Miami Beach, Ganey fish surround it, but all the sharks are not in the waters. It is readily reached either by water or air.

STATE BUREAU TELLS WHY THE BLOOM BILL ON GAME LAWS LOST

A comment on the Bloom bill designed to change radically state fish and game laws, has been received by Robert Kingsbury, secretary of the Greene County Fish and Game Protective Association, from the Bureau of Fish and Game at Columbus.

The communication entitled "Why the Bloom Bill was defeated" is as follows:

The Bloom bill H. B. 50, introduced by Mr. Bloom of Fremont, died in committee. It was opposed by the League of Ohio Sportsmen, by the Bureau of Fish and Game, and by Commercial Fishermen, and had no support except from Fremont. Dr. Sackett et al. who framed the bill being its only backers.

This bill in substance was turned down by the sportsmen at large at the convention in Columbus Dec. 3rd, and was drawn without cooperation with the Bureau of Fish and Game, and in fact many of its provisions were kept secret from the Chief of the Bureau until time to introduce it in the legislature.

The bill as presented unindorsed by sportsmen at large, or by any interests except from Fremont individuals, provided among other things the following:

1. The hook and line fishing season in the inland fishing district should be from May 31st to September 1st only. You could fish in Ohio in the inland district with hook and line only during dog days.
2. Gill nets to be used in Sandusky Bay. (Everyone who understands netting knows that a gill net will kill every fish it catches, and those that may escape are permanently injured. All game fish ensnared in it would be killed.)
3. The limit on wild ducks to be cut down to five a day and Dr. Seakette even argued in favor of three ducks a day.
4. It would have thrown over 700 commercial fishermen out of work and made useless nearly $1,000,000 worth of commercial fishing equipment, and would have shut off a valuation food supply, and taken valuable property off the tax duplicates. The Chamber of Commerce of Sandusky City the territory most affected opposed this.
5. It was brought out in the legislative committee that there was every appearance that there was an effort to drag all the sportsmen of Ohio into a personal quarrel between one Fremont man and the shooting clubs.
6. The bill ripped up the splendid

new code the sportsmen of Ohio worked hard to have passed by the legislature. It was kept in the dark from the Fish and Game Department as much as possible. Had the department been consulted, defects and ridiculous sections, could have been avoided. Sportsmen associations in many parts of Ohio wired or drew resolutions asking the legislative committee to kill the bill.

7. In the manner in which it was drawn, and the way the proposition was handled, it did not look good to the legislative committee or to the sportsmen at large. It could have worked only confusion, and dissatisfaction, and could have been a detriment, had it passed.

Pollution Bill.

The bill to clear up stream pollution is still being considered. Ohio manufacturers state it is so drastic they could not possibly comply with its provisions as drawn. The Ohio Manufacturers Association is showing a spirit of cooperation and arrangements are being perfected to give a demonstration and exhibit of the treatments of stream pollution, before a committee from the Manufacturers' Association, and the legislative committee, such as form the needed legislation, and will lead to clearing up polluted streams without hampering industry in a manner of benefit to industry as well as to the sportsmen and the general public.

The bill endorsed at the sportsmen's convention to adjust the seasons on fur bearing animals, passed the house by a good majority. It will come before the Senate within a few days and it is believed it will have little opposition.

The bill to establish free hunting grounds, in Southern Ohio and Lake Erie marshes is ready for the hopper, and no opposition has been heard to it as yet.

Roulette Ball Rolls
Adjoining the footrail is the Palace of Chance, where the drone and click of the ivory ball among the tenets of the roulette wheel sound a warning as unmistakable as the whirr of a rattlesnake. Few heed the warning however, until bitten. Play for small stakes is discouraged. The ceiling is the limit. It is a high ceiling and a large, gray, stout man, well known in New York Sporting circles, stands unobtrusively about ready to lift the ceiling if any patron demands it. Hazard finds some few devotees, but the faro table is often deserted. Too technical a game for the uninitiated, the croupier with the agile artist' fingers declines to "open up for less than

AVIATOR IS REPORTED MISSING

Army planes from Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas, cowboys and Texas Rangers are searching for Lieutenant Alexander Pearson, Jr., the United States flier from Douglas, Ariz., who has not been heard from since he left El Paso for Kelly Field several days ago. Lieutenant Pearson had planned the Twelfth Aero Squadron,

ROBERT BIRD DIES THURSDAY NIGHT; SICK FOUR WEEKS

Robert Bird, for many years a prominent merchant of Cedarville, died Thursday at 11:20 p. m. at the McClellan hospital after an illness of four weeks from catarrhal fever which developed an infection of the mastoid bone necessitating an operation performed Monday Feb. 7. He rallied from the operation which was successful but owing to his weakened condition was unable to combat the course of the disease.

He was born April 2nd, 1858, at Cedarville and was the son of Bloss and Ellen Bird, of a long and prominent line of English ancestors. His father was a stone mason and building contractor well known for his work in and about Cedarville and Greene County.

He received his education in the Cedarville public and high schools. In April 1880 at the age of 22 he took over the grocery store of his sister, Mrs. Julia Condon, located in the small red brick building still standing on South Main street, starting with a very limited capital and stock, which due to his indefatigable industry and integrity have since grown to the present extensive business. In 1882 the store was moved to the northwest corner of Main street and Xenia avenue now occupied by the new Exchange bank building and in 1890 to its present location on the opposite corner. In Aug 1915 due to the increasing size and extent of the lines of merchandise handled and the failing health of Mr. Bird the business was reorganized under the present name of Robert Bird and sons Co.

It can be said of Robert Bird that he was a self made man and although of a quiet unassuming nature he numbered his business and personal friends by the score because of his genial democratic disposition.

On April 11th, 1883 he was united in marriage to Aetha Stevenson of Xenia and to them were born five children all of whom survive him. The children are Frank and Mrs. Lloyd Confort of Cedarville both of whom are actively connected with the store, Fred, who is an assistant to the Superintendent of Mandel Brothers Department Store in Chicago, Harry who is pursuing a course in pharmacy in Philadelphia, and Mary at home. He is also survived by his two sisters, Mrs. Julia Condon now in Florida and Mrs. H. A. Turnbull of Cedarville.

As a young man he attended the M. E. Church and shortly after his marriage, he and his wife united with the U. P. Church, which he has attended faithfully ever since and served in the capacity of trustee for a number of years.

Funeral services will be held at the U. P. Church in Cedarville Sunday afternoon at 2:00 in charge of his pastor Rev. J. P. White. Interment in Massie Creek cemetery.

CONDUCT FUNERAL FOR JULIA HARNER AT THE HOME

Funeral services for Miss Julia Helen Harner were held at the late home on the Clifton pike, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and were in charge of Rev. Pim of the Friends Church. A quartet composed of Miss Allie Swadener, Mrs. Benjamin Dice, Melvin Swadener and Oscar Whitlow, accompanied by Miss Bitta Swadener, offered three hymns, "My Savior," "He Knows it All," and "Just When I Need Him Most."

Full bearers were Earl Flatter, Horace Flatter, Floyd Flatter, Ralph Stevens, Everett Harner and William Harner. Burial was made at Woodland cemetery this city.

Jones' accident taught me my lesson

"I was there when they brought him home—weeks later I saw the result of his thoughtlessness—savings gone, bills piling up, nothing coming in, his wife sick with worry and trying to find work to make ends meet. Right then I determined that would never happen to my wife. I found the best way to protect us all was to

DAVIS ANNOUNCES NEW SELECTIONS

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—Gov. Davis has announced that E. C. Shaw, Akron and Marshall Sheppy, Toledo have accepted invitations to serve as members of the state board of administration. These men were selected by a committee of Ohio business men called together by the Governor to co-operate in an endeavor to induce four citizens of the state to serve on the board temporarily pending reorganization of the state government. The committee adopted a resolution requesting William G. Sharp, Elyria, former ambassador to France, to serve on the board as a Democratic member.

After consulting with physicians in their respective communities the committee plan to nominate by mail the fourth member of the board, a Democratic physician.

Shaw is president of the Second National bank at Akron.

Sheppy is head of a firm of wholesale grocers, Bordan and Company.

ODD RECIPES.

Veiled Heart—Scoop out part of a calf's heart. Refill with well-seasoned stuffing. Steam or boil until tender, then bake until evenly browned. Cover with boiled spaghetti and serve with gravy made from drippings.

Scotch Toast—Remove fat from two quarts mutton broth, add one-half pint oatmeal and two finely-minced onions, and salt, pepper and a sprig of parsley. Cover closely, cook gently about three or four hours, strain and serve with buttered toast fingers.

French Rice Loaf—Pick over and soak for twelve hours or more two cups of split peas. Drain them and add one pound unglazed rice, two teaspoons salt, one-half teaspoon ginger and a dash of pepper. Stir and add one quart water. Cook gently until tender and dry. Pack into a mound and garnish with French fried onions and hard-cooked eggs.

Mounted Oysters—Pick over and rinse one dozen large oysters. Have ready one dozen thin slices bacon and one dozen pieces toast cut into rounds. Wrap each oyster in a piece of bacon and secure it in place with a wooden skewer or toothpick. Put oysters in a hot oven to cook bacon. Then place them on the rounds of toast. Sprinkle with salt and paprika and garnish with crisp sprigs of parsley.

Cream of Potato Soup—Three potatoes, one pint milk, one tablespoon flour, one tablespoon butter, one teaspoon salt, speck of white pepper, one tablespoon finely chopped parsley.

Cook potatoes until soft; heat milk in double boiler with onion; drain and mash potatoes; add boiling milk and seasoning to mashed potatoes; rub all through strainer, and return to double boiler. Bind with butter and flour cooked together. Let boil five minutes; add parsley and serve.

Sauces Add Piquancy.—Bernaize Sauce—One and one-half tablespoons finely chopped onion, two tablespoons vinegar, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon paprika, three egg yolks, one tablespoon chopped parsley. Cook the onions in the vinegar. Place in double boiler and add the egg yolks and seasoning. Cook until the mixture becomes creamy.

Caper Sauce—Two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon onion juice, one cup boiling water, four tablespoons capers, one tablespoon vinegar. Make a sauce of the first five ingredients. Just before removing from the fire add the capers and vinegar.

Hollandaise Sauce—Four tablespoons butter, two teaspoons cornstarch, two egg yolks, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-half cup scalded milk, juice of one lemon, speck of cayenne. Cream the butter, add the cornstarch dissolved in one tablespoon cold water, then add the egg yolks one at a time, beating thoroughly; next put into the mixture the seasonings and milk and cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly until thick. Last add the lemon juice, beating it into the sauce thoroughly. Serve at once.

in charge of the program of events for the day, and to assist the Legion in raising funds, a number of Dayton boxers have consented to give their services free. The main go will be between Frank Mantall and Battling Davis, while Tommy Garry and Young Webb, are booked for another six-round feature. Eddie McManus will take care of one end of the preliminary, his opponent to be selected later.

Several amateur boxers of Dayton have also agreed to appear on the listic program for the benefit of the Legion Post.

HOUSE WARMING

Chapter 94

"I shall give a housewarming!" Juanita declared when I had finished the bungalow. "I won't ask many, but you should get better acquainted anyway, and this will be a good time to introduce you."

"Don't make it too dressy an affair or I shan't be able to come," I told her. I had put every penny she paid me, a very generous sum toward what we called our "building fund." "I have made over all my clothes until it is impossible to do anything more with them, so I shall be sure to look out of date."

Yet as I said it I had no feeling that I wanted to buy new clothes. That desire had been killed in me when I saw Dick with a revolver in his hand, ready to kill himself because of my love for clothes. Is it any wonder I cared nothing for them now save that I wanted to look neat and in good taste because of Dick and Juanita.

"You always look nice," Juanita answered.

"Neat, but not gaudy!" I replied laughingly, then dismissed the subject. Juanita had said she would only ask a few people. I would do my best not to shame either her or Dick. Beyond that I gave it no thought.

"Why don't you buy yourself something with part of that money you made decorating the bungalow?" Dick asked.

Long afterward I remembered that he never spoke Juanita's name as he did at first, when he mentioned it as easily as I did.

"No, that will allow us to commence building. We can have the house up by fall. Then we can decorate and fix up one room at a time until it is all finished. It won't cost us much as I shall do every bit of it, even the painting, myself."

"You mean't do too much, Nan?" "I won't! It will be a joy to fix up our home. Dick, and to know when it is finished it is really ours."

No debts, no mortgage!"

"Yes, it will be nice," he returned vacantly, without animation, and I noticed he flushed when I spoke.

A fear flashed through me turning me cold with dread. Was Dick feeling ill again? Had his literary work, at times he gave slavish attention, been too strenuous for him? Had it confined him too closely? I looked at him more critically than I had for some time. But no—he looked very well; was a good healthy color, and his eyes were bright. What had been the meaning of his flush, and his seeming indifference?

Perhaps he wanted to wait longer and put up a better, a larger house? My heart sank at the thought. I was getting better prices for his stories and the small house we had planned looked very attractive and convenient to me. But I would not object to waiting another year if it would make Dick happier. He was getting better prices for his stories all the time, and he probably thought it better to wait and see what the future held in store for him. So I said:

"Have you changed your mind about building, Dick?"

"No, why do you ask?"

"I thought you acted indifferent."

Dick flushed again, then laughed a little at me because of my imagination.

"You should have been the story-writer not me."

"I only wish I could write stories. But making house-poems seems my limit." Long ago he had said that I made a certain house a "poem" because of the delicate, artistic way in which I had re-draped and re-finished it.

"Perhaps your poems will live longer than my stories."

"Nonsense! You are depressed to day over something. You don't feel ill, do you?" my first fear recurring.

"Now I'll say 'nonsense!' Do I look like a sick man?"

"No, but I was trying to account

for your seeming indifference about the house. If you want to change the plans, to wait another year and build a better house, why we can get along as we are."

Now his tone was humble, unlike its usual rather arbitrary ring.

"He's just in one of his moods," I said to myself, and left him.

Tomorrow—A setting for beauty.
